Viet Cong Say War Intensified By U.S.

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front charged today that since President Johnson ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted, the number of U.S. B52s bombing South Vietnam has doubled and the number of the B52 sorties has tripled.

NLF spokesman Duong Dinh Thao told a news conference the B52 attacks prove that the U.S. government is "continuing to intensify the war." He claimed that the giant U.S. strategic bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of bombs near Da Nang Monday and "killed many old people, women and children with poison gas and chemical products."

If the United States and the Saigon government continue to pursue the war and obstruct the peace talks, he declared, they "will suffer ever greater defeats on the battlefield, and the struggle of the South Vietnamese population temporarily under the Saigon administration will develop with ever greater intensity."

Thao also renewed the NLF's attack on South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, likening him to Hitler as another NLF spokesman did Monday.

The Communists deliberately chose a Viet Cong spokesman for their first full-dress attack on the newly arrived South Vietnamese envoys.

The symbolism of this timing—with the NLF spearheading the Communist presentation ahead of North Vietnam's delegation—was not lost on the South Vietnamese. For in the diplomatic jockeying over the war's main issue—who is to control South Vietnam—the Communists contend that the NLF is the authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people, Ky's government does not recognize the NLF, which it considers a tool of the North Vietnamese, and says it will deal only with Hanoi. The North Vietnamese reject this approach.

The wrangle is reflected in the preliminary negotiations over these points of procedure: —What will be the order of speaking at the first four-delegation session? The United States and South Vietnam do not want the NLF to seem to get precedence over Saigon.

—What shape will the negotiating table be?

Clifford Tells Of Hope For Early Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today he hopes that enough progress can be made in the Paris peace talks during the next 40 days that the United States and North Vietnam could agree to a mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam.

The defense chief said he believes the opportunity exists in Paris for such an agreement and "I would like to see in the next 40 days the start of the return of American troops from South Vietnam."

Clifford said in response to close questioning at a news conference, however, he did not mean to imply that troops are indeed about to be withdrawn.

He said this will depend on how the Paris negotiations proceed.

"I wish to create the impression that it is my personal desire that such progress can be made in Paris ... that we would be able to reach an agreement so there would be a mutual withdrawal of troops," Clifford said.

At the same time, Clifford said it is possible the North Vietnamese plan to proceed with a winter military offensive in South Vietnam, although "it is too early to tell."

Clifford said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is preparing for such an offensive in case the North Vietnamese "choose to go this route."

Clifford also said it is also likely the Pentagon will have to request supplemental funds for its fiscal 1969 budget of $72 billion.

His disclosure of possible need for additional defense money came as he reported that the Pentagon has now met congressionally required spending cuts of $3 billion for this budget year.

Clifford said the cuts were shared this way by the services: Army $900 million, Navy $992 million, Air Force $928 million, and the various defense agen-

Theologian Karl Barth Dies at 83

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Karl Barth, one of the world's leading Protestant theologians, died early today at his home in Basel. He was 83.

A native of Basel, Barth was praised as the most creative Protestant theologian since John Calvin. He also was variously damned as a heretic, a narrow-minded biblicist and an atheist in disguise—but even some of his critics called him "the most monumental appearance in our period."

He gave the world of religious thought 10 fat tomes, elaborating a formidable and intricate Protestantism that stressed the spiritual nature of true religion—faith in Christ, the church of Christ and the Bible as His witness.

As a young minister in World War I, Barth published his first bombshell in 1918. His "Epistle to the Romans" was a scathing attack on the dominant "liberal" theology of the day.

As a scholar and later a teacher, Barth had little time for politics—"fundamentally uninteresting"—until 1933 after Hitler established the Third Reich. Then a professor at the University of Bonn, he repeatedly attacked Nazism until he was arrested, tried, found guilty of "seducing the minds of German students" and expelled from Germany in 1935.

In World War II, Barth volunteered for duty in the Swiss army at the age of 54 and spent much of the duration guarding a bridge on the German frontier. After the war he returned briefly to lecture in the bombed-out ruins of his old university in Bonn, then came back to Basel to carry on with the intellectual job he started in 1932: the writing of Church Dogmatics.

Luna said the UTU will be the 17th largest AFL-CIO organization with a membership of about 280,000.

Missing from the merger was the 40,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

"We extended an invitation to them to join our union and they rejected it the same day it was extended," Luna said.

Referring to the goals of the new union, Luna said, "We won't negotiate in the old-time way in which one union tries to outdo the other unions."

He said the UTU would stress improvement of railroading and increase safety.

"We feel this move will enable the railroad men to enjoy a good income and to have self respect in his industry," Luna added. "We are already initiating research on the matters of safety and the mass transportation law."

"We want the human factor returned to railroading. We are preparing for the next Congress a broad, mass transportation

Decision on 'Opting Out' Not Done By the Book

By PETER F. DANIELS
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

There seems to be question now whether the City Council and County Court acted strictly according to law when both government units voted to withdraw sponsorship of Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., here.

The question is brought on by a technicality. According to federal law governing branches of the Office of Economic Opportunity and related political subdivisions, the public has to be given notice before a vote is taken to "opt out" of a Community Action Program.

The rules regulating opting out are similar to those governing designation of a CAP unit. According to an OEO bulletin, "Before a state or a political subdivision designates a community action agency, it must provide an opportunity for residents and organizations in the proposed community to publicly express their views on the question at a public meeting or hearing."

"There shall be at least ten days advance public notice of the meeting or hearing," the bulletin says.

It also states that "the decision to opt out should be made by the governing officials in the same manner as designations of community action agencies."

In other words, before dropping sponsorship of the local MMCAC, the city and county should have posted ten days notice of their decision before acting. They should also have given the public a chance to express an opinion on the subject.

But since both governments have gone ahead and opted out without warning, MMCAC finds itself in a position which forces it to discontinue its activities.

Hardy Cobb, MMCAC director, said after a meeting with his regional officer that Feb. 28, 1969, had been set as the target date for ending operations in Pettis County.

Cobb said that although the city and county had apparently acted illegally in their swift decision to opt out, the regional office of OEO had decided against contesting the action even though, "we could win."

A certain grace period still remains, however, which would give both city and county time to change their positions. The reason is OEO's decision to continue its programs until the current program year is concluded.

Cobb did emphasize, however, that neither the city or county would qualify as a community action agency if for no other reason than lack of population.

One OEO requirement for designating any organization or institution a community action program area is that the area have at least 50,000 residents. Neither Sedalia nor the county qualifies.

Violence Hits Anew At College

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New violence struck San Francisco State College Monday as administrators at six of the nation's colleges grappled with the problems, protests and Negro-oriented demands presented by militant student demonstrators.

Rock-throwing demonstrators shattered 22 windows at San Francisco State before about 220 policemen, including a mounted unit, broke up a crowd estimated at nearly 1,000.

Violence has become a common occurrence on the 18,000-student campus during a five-week student strike over issues including demands for a black studies department and amnesty for all arrested.

Acting president S. I. Hayakawa, who has coupled the use of police with some concessions during his seven-day tenure, told newsmen, "I think I'm on the right track. I'm confident that what I'm doing is right."

At Northern Michigan University in Marquette about 150 Negro students raised their hands in a clenched fist salute during the playing of the National Anthem before a basketball game

New High For Red Military

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today raised its defense budget for next year by 1 billion rubles to an all-time high military expenditure of 17.7 billion rubles.

The defense figure was given by Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov in outlining a 133.8 billion ruble national budget for next year. The official rate of the ruble is $1.11.

The increase in defense spending was a lower rate than a year ago when the Soviet Union announced an increase of 2.2 billion rubles to a total of 16.7 billion. The costs of helping the North Vietnamese in the Vietnam war and the Arab-Israeli dispute were believed to be a main factor in that increase.

Names are being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

U.N. Arms Debate Set to End Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee winds up its annual disarmament debate today prior to voting on eight resolutions.

One draft before the 126-nation committee, submitted by Brazil and nine other nations, urged top-level contact between the United States and the Soviet Union in connection with their earlier agreement to begin bilateral discussions on both offensive and defensive delivery systems. But it does not appeal directly for such talks, reflecting the theme of most speeches during the three-week debate.

President Johnson, who coaled toward the idea of such talks after the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, is reported to have revived hopes of a summit meeting before the new Nixon administration takes over in January.

The U.S. position changed after Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin indicated to former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara recently that he would welcome a summit meeting now.

Another resolution, expected to win approval, calls on the 18-nation Geneva Disarmament Committee to work on a treaty banning underground nuclear tests.

Underground nuclear tests are not covered by the limited test ban treaty signed in August 1963. The United States supports the idea of discussions to broaden the treaty but insists a fool-proof detection system is necessary.

Last week the United States proposed establishing an international network to monitor planned underground nuclear blasts with the aim of improving detection techniques.

William C. Foster, the chief U.S. arms negotiator, proposed that some U.S. underground nuclear blasts be used to test the monitoring systems.

A third resolution calls on Secretary-General U Thant to sound out member states on the idea of registering all imports and exports of arms with the United Nations.

Canada and nine other nations have introduced a resolution supporting a recommendation by the Geneva committee for a study of the effects of poison gas and other weapons of chemical and bacteriological warfare.

Two groups of non-nuclear nations have introduced resolutions calling for a revival of meetings of the 126-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission to cover the gamut of nuclear questions.

The Soviet bloc submitted a rival resolution to limit such talks to the 18-nation Geneva group.

and the like.

—Dr. Martin Anderson, 32, an associate professor at Columbia University's Graduate School of Business, will be special assistant—one of several—concentrating on "program and policy development."

Both men were closely associated with the Nixon campaign, Keogh serving as chief of campaign research and writing and Anderson specializing in research.

Nixon, meanwhile, joked Monday night that he may be getting the Hong Kong flu but was described as only "sneezing a little" and fit for a national television-radio appearance Wednesday in Washington to announce his Cabinet.

Addressing the board of directors of the Boys' Clubs of America, Nixon said he knew his audience would like to learn about the members of his Cabinet, but that he would withhold the disclosure until Wednesday, assuming he was not coming down with the flu.

Ziegler later said the President-elect was joking and, despite some sneezing, had no doubt about going through with the nationwide broadcast.

Nixon said that his decision to announce all 12 Cabinet choices at once was "something that's unprecedented, or at least unprecedented in recent times."

Earlier, he indicated he would go beyond Cabinet appointments and announce some other selections for top federal positions.

In addressing the Boys' Club board, which he headed for four years, Nixon said it was his hope that a way could be found to channel some of the social welfare funds of the federal government through private voluntary organizations of that kind.

He said he hasn't figured out how this can be accomplished but reported he will instruct his secretary of health, education and welfare to seek a way.

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, after conferring with Nixon, agreed to remain on the job in the next administration and told reporters he thinks the

Hint Shriver is Nixon U.N. Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon apparently is determined to appoint a big-name Democrat as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and a source in the Nixon camp indicated today the job would go to Sargent Shriver.

Shriver, currently ambassador to France, flew here hurriedly and conferred with Nixon for more than two hours Sunday. On Monday Shriver then went to Washington where he met with his brother-in-law, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Then he returned to New York where he boarded an Air France plane back to Paris. At Kennedy Airport, he delayed the flight for several minutes while he made telephone calls to other members of the Kennedy family.

Asked if he would remain as an ambassador in the Nixon administration, Shriver said: "That would be a good question to ask the President-elect."

Shriver said he did not have time to answer other questions. Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced last week that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had declined a firm offer from Nixon for the U.N. post.

Ziegler declined to comment on the possibility that Shriver now was in line for the U.N. job but a source close to Nixon hinted strongly that such was the case.

Recent tradition has been for envoys to the United Nations to represent the same political faith as the president. However, former President Harry S. Truman, a Democrat, chose a prominent Vermont Republican, Sen. Warren Austin, to be U.N. ambassador during his administration which encompassed the earliest years of the world organization's history.

Nixon announced two more appointments to his personal staff today:

—James Keogh, 52, of Greenwich, Conn., who has been on leave of absence as executive editor of Time magazine, will be special assistant and "managing editor" in the preparation of speeches, messages to Congress

Four Rail Unions Merge After Vote of Members

CHICAGO (AP)—The merger of four railroad unions into a new union called The United Transportation Union received referendum approval today.

The consolidation proposal carried on votes by the membership of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The total vote was 97,728 in favor of the merger and 15,067 opposed, said Charles Luna of Cleveland, president of the new union.

Luna said the UTU will be the 17th largest AFL-CIO organization with a membership of about 280,000.

Missing from the merger was the 40,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

"We extended an invitation to them to join our union and they rejected it the same day it was extended," Luna said.

Referring to the goals of the new union, Luna said, "We won't negotiate in the old-time way in which one union tries to outdo the other unions."

He said the UTU would stress improvement of railroading and increase safety.

"We feel this move will enable the railroad men to enjoy a good income and to have self respect in his industry," Luna added. "We are already initiating research on the matters of safety and the mass transportation law."

"We want the human factor returned to railroading. We are preparing for the next Congress a broad, mass transportation bill aimed at the basic problems of transportation which we feel underlie many of the problems facing the urban areas of this nation."

Luna and all other officers of the UTU were designated in the ratified constitution.

Candidates Report Campaign Expense

Political campaigns are expensive, for winners and losers alike, according to expense statements filed in the office of the county recorder following the Nov. 5 elections.

Candidates are required by state law to file their campaign expense accounts within 30 days following the election. Candidates, and both major party county committees, declared the following expenses:

Democratic Committee, $6,624.05.

Republican Committee, $5,027.43.

Dr. R. W. Hartman, GOP candidate for coroner, $84.12.

Henry Keeler, unopposed GOP winner for prosecuting attorney, $125, donated to the central committee.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax, Democratic unopposed candidate for his office, donated $400 to the Democratic Committee.

E. L. Birdsong, successful Democratic candidate for county judge of the Eastern District, $257.

Joe Rains, successful Democratic candidate for representative from the 115th District, $796.

George Miller, unsuccessful Republican candidate for representative from the 115th District, $815.74.

Sam Tuck, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for judge of the Western District, $168.10.

Raymond Wasson, unsuccessful GOP candidate for assessor, $448.96.

The Eagleton for Senator Committee, $1,747.90.

The following candidates on the ballot for county offices had not filed their expense accounts by Tuesday morning:

Jim Atkinson, Zeb Thomas, Jerry Trotter, Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, Lloyd Farris, John Zulauf and Keith Ekstrom.

Powell is Opposed By GOP Lawmaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury investigation of Adam Clayton Powell has been dropped, but a congressional opponent says he still will seek to bar the Harlem Democrat from reclaiming his House seat.

The Justice Department said Tuesday night it had let the grand jury expire without recommending that it indict Powell on charges of misusing some $40,000 in public funds.

"Available evidence did not warrant prosecution," the department said.

It added, however, that it was studying the possibility of a civil action to recover the funds.

Powell was not immediately available for comment.

Powell was excluded from the 90th Congress March 1, 1967. The House, in a 278-to-176 vote, went further than the recommendation by a select nine-man committee that he be censured.

He was accused of using public funds for his own pleasure, keeping his wife on the congressional payroll while pocketing her salary and making private airline trips at government expense.

The grand jury investigation had been going on for 18 months. The length of the investigation had prompted some congressmen to say privately that failure to hand up an indictment would clear the way for Powell to take his seat in the next Congress.

The exclusion did not carry over and Powell won his usual landslide re-election Nov. 5.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, said Tuesday night the lack of an indictment would not affect his intention to try to block seating Powell.

"There will be a number of others opposed to him," Gross said. He declined, however, to estimate opposition strength or to name any of those opposed.

It takes the objection of only one member to require a roll call vote on seating Powell.

The Supreme Court has agreed to hear Powell's suit against the House in which he says it acted unconstitutionally. The court, however, gave no indication when it took the case Nov. 18 whether it would act before the 91st Congress convenes Jan. 3.

Some congressmen have taken a dim view of the possibility the court might rule Powell should have been seated.

"It would create a very serious constitutional impasse," said Rep. Vernon W. Thomson, R-Wis., recently. Thomson was a member of the select committee that originally investigated Powell and he has said he is opposed to seating him.

Powell said shortly after his re-election that he would be willing to return to Congress as a freshman, forfeiting the 22 years seniority that carried him to chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

Should Powell regain his seat, even after a floor fight, it likely would ease the impact of any subsequent court decision. A decision before Congress convenes, however, likely would rattle some congressmen who may have relaxed their opposition to Powell but not to what they consider an overly liberal court.

Also pending against Powell is a 90-day jail term and $500 fine levied after his conviction in 1960 for criminal contempt in refusing to pay a libel judgment. Powell has paid $56,000 to a Harlem woman he accused of being a graft collector for crooked police and has appealed the contempt conviction to the New York Supreme Court.

Secret Swiss Accounts Target

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Informal discussions have begun with Switzerland to curb the use of secret bank accounts by Americans intent on avoiding taxes and restrictions on stock market speculation, Justice Department sources say.

These sources said the talks probably will be continued by the incoming Nixon administration with the aim of negotiating a treaty that would limit what was described as widespread abuses.

The House Banking Committee heard testimony Monday that numbered bank accounts, guarded by the stiff Swiss laws guaranteeing secrecy, were being used by:

- Gangsters and loan sharks concealing illegally acquired money.
- Casino operators salting away some of their cash receipts to avoid income tax.
- Salesmen doing business abroad and putting some of their commissions out of reach of U.S. tax authorities.
- Corporation officials dodging U.S. restrictions on trading with inside information.

—Enormous numbers of stock market investors trying to circumvent either the tax laws or the restrictions on trading on margin.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said at the close of the hearing he will introduce legislation making it a crime for a U.S. citizen to deal with a foreign bank not allowing U.S. government inspection of its records relating to American accounts.

Patman, who said the hearing will be reconvened after January, indicated he also will press for legislation to put all foreign banks operating in the United States under supervision of federal agencies.

He also indicated he will ask the Federal Reserve Board to make certain that margin requirements for exchange trading are being met by domestic and foreign customers.

"United States bank regulatory agencies must share some of the blame for the problems uncovered by these hearings," Patman said.

"Too little is known by these agencies of the actual type of business in which banks are engaged."

He said he will call for annual audits by the bank regulatory agencies of all commercial banks "so that problem areas can be uncovered before they reach the proportions that were outlined in these hearings."

However, Justice Department and Securities and Exchange Commission witnesses expressed doubt that abuses could be corrected by domestic legislation alone.

Confession Of Slaying By Salesman

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Authorities were expected here today to take custody of a man who told a Corpus Christi minister he killed a Springfield, Mo., grocer four years ago.

Police said they arrested Donald D. Campbell, 38, a Springfield salesman, after his recital Sunday to the Rev. Jack D. Walker, who summoned officers.

Officials at Springfield then lodged a first degree murder charge against Campbell in the slaying of John F. Vaughn, 34.

Vaughn died Aug. 3, 1964, a day after being found shot on a road north of Springfield.

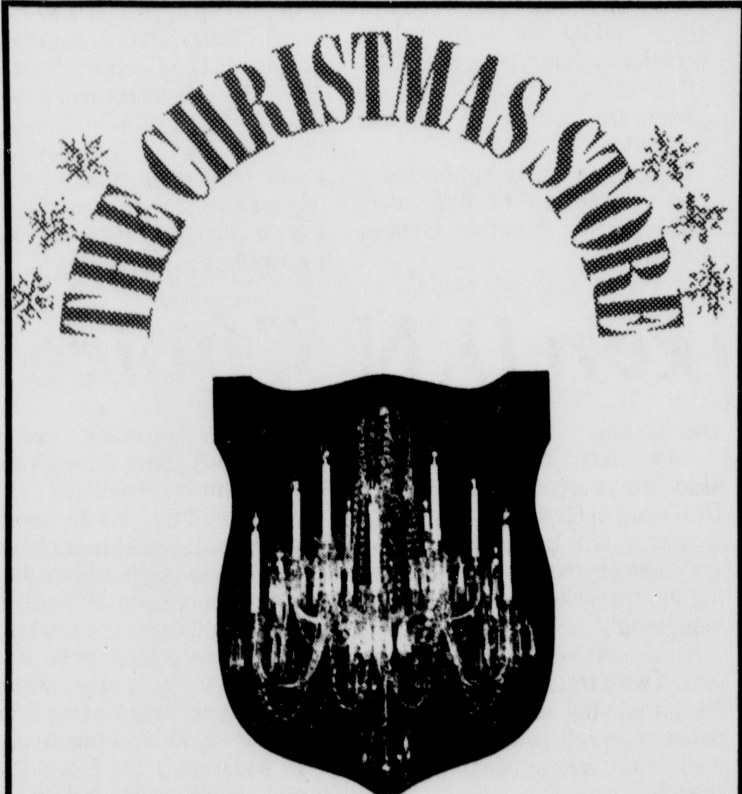

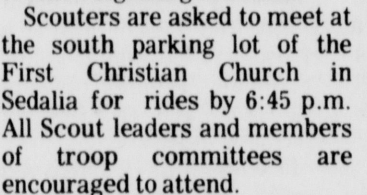

Corpus Christi police said Campbell told them he had accepted Christianity and decided to surrender. They quoted him as saying he came here from Springfield after trying unsuccessfully to turn himself in for car theft.

Campbell was taken before Judge Horace Young and waived extradition Monday afternoon.

Hal Boyle's Column

Career Field Too Big To Make Early Choice

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

One of the chief worries of parents today is the inability of their children to decide early on a career field.

The anxiety of parents is quite understandable. Knowing as they do the pitfalls of this world and the danger of drifting into trouble, they naturally desire to see their offspring find a safe anchorage as soon as possible.

But they should be sympathetically aware also of the fact that the indecision of their children in selecting a lifelong occupation is quite understandable, too.

Happy indeed is the child that is swept young by an overwhelming passion to follow a certain vocation, provided that he knows the demands it will make upon him and feels equipped by his talents and the desire of his soul to meet and fulfill those demands. But such children are rather rare, certainly they are a minority.

"What shall I be?" That is the question, and it is a tremendous one that holds a fateful answer. Small wonder that a young man or woman is confused, groping and tentative in coming up with his answer.

In the old days that answer was almost inevitable. Each generation tended to tread exactly in the footsteps of the generation before it.

But youth today isn't so meekly acquiescent in following the parental patterns of before. And isn't it a truly wonderful thing that youth doesn't have to?

One of the veritable blessings of our widening prosperity is that our modern young people have more choice about how to spend their lives and select a future more fitting to their individual needs.

There are nearly 24,000 different occupations or job classifications in America. That is a bewildering possibility of selection.

Why should a young man or woman fly into the nearest pigeonhole, merely because he can make a living there, if he may find out at 40 that he hates this line of work but has become a prisoner of its cheap security?

The duty of parents isn't to force their children onto the most easily available payroll but to help them find a vocation for which they are most suitable.

"What shall I be?"

First of all, the young persons should look around and find out what his heart and mind tell him he can do best and be most happy in doing.

The problem isn't merely to earn a living. It is to make a life—a wholesome, dedicated enjoyable life spent in performing a worthwhile task.

So don't panic, kid, or submit to parental panic. Take your time—and do the right and wise thing.

Investor Doesn't Like Feeling of Uncertainty

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The big stock market investors never have liked uncertainty. Customarily, when the prospects are mixed between good and bad the tendency has been to sell out rather than risk losing out.

As a result, many millions of dollars have been wiped from the listed value of shares during times that, although not terribly gloomy, presented few clues to future direction.

The investment community, in other words, likes to know where it stands, what the boundaries are, what the traffic lights indicate and what the penalties are for violating the rules.

Imagine, then, the torment in Wall Street these days over the matter of using inside information. Traditionally this has been the grist of the market. But federal regulators now say beware of its use.

If a hard, clear ruling were made on the issue, no matter how tough, the market place probably could adjust to it, for in the past it has discounted, ignored or accommodated itself to seemingly unpalatable news. But the ruling is unclear and confusing.

Analysts, among others are especially disconcerted. The use of inside information could help make money for their customers; the use of inside information might land them in jail.

The confusion arises over several recent decisions and cases involving the use of news not generally available to the public in order to obtain an advantage in the market.

The first big case involved Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., in which it was ruled that those in possession of information that is withheld from the public may not seek an advantage by trading on it.

The Securities and Exchange Commission argued that employees of Texas Gulf knew of a vast ore discovery in Ontario and used this news to gain profits in the stock market before releasing it to the public.

A federal court found the company and some of its highest executives guilty of violating the securities laws. Moreover, it indicated that any person receiving an inside tip also should refrain from acting on the information.

Now inside information, actively sought by 11,000 security analysts, is to a large extent the energizer of the market. But what few in the market place today are certain about is what, specifically, constitutes inside information.

As a result, millions of words of informal opinions have been offered. Financial public relations firms have been divided in their advice: Some say their clients should withhold all information from analysts; others say nothing should be withheld.

Fraud charges brought by the SEC against Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith and 15 very large investors have brought little clarification of the inside information ruling.

Childrens' Silence Golden To Mother

Dear Ann: I was interested in the letter from ABC, the teenage girl whose father was cheating on her mother. You told her to keep her mouth shut and suggested the possibility that her mother probably knew what was going on and pretended not to see. You added, "When a mother is confronted with such information she may be forced to ask for a divorce which she doesn't want, as a matter of pride."

I was glad you gave that advice, Ann, because I am the wife of a cheating husband and my children are aware of their father's unfaithfulness. Several weeks ago I overheard my 15-year-old daughter tell her 17-year-old brother she saw Daddy's car again — parked on a side street by Mrs. J's house. But they've never said anything to me.

I appreciate my children's silence more than they'll ever know. It shows strong character and genuine consideration. I am aware, too, that just because a man is unfaithful does not mean he is rotten to the core and deserves to be thrown out. My husband happens to be a wonderful father and he has many fine qualities. Unfortunately, he's not quite grown up in some ways. This is not his first affair. The poor fellow has been involved with at least three other young women. Like so many other immature males, he uses extramarital sex as a prop for his sagging ego.

Living with the problem is not easy, but it's better than the alternative. — UNDERSTANDING HELPS

Dear Understanding: I admire the breadth of your understanding and the absence of hostility. Not every wife could accommodate to such a situation, but apparently you have weighed and measured and made your decision on the basis of what is best for you and your family. Congratulations.

Dear Ann Landers: The woman (I should say girl) upstairs asked if I would watch her baby Tuesday night. I had a bowling date and didn't want to break it so I said no. She tried her best to talk me into it. (She and her husband had been asked by another couple of help celebrate their wedding anniversary.) I refused to change my mind, however.

A couple days later I found out the girl and her husband took the baby with them and left him in the back seat of the car while they went from tavern to tavern. They got home at 3:00 a.m.

If anything had happened to that baby I would never have forgiven myself. I am a nervous wreck just thinking about it. What can be done about parents like that? — MIDDLETOWN, N.Y.

Dear Middletown: If the police had found that baby in the seat of the car the parents could have been charged with neglect. Such parents can lose their children.

It's a shame a mother would have to be pulled into line through fear of police action, but I suggest that you tell her about the risk she is running. It could do some good.

St. Paul Women Name Officers

St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid society held their monthly business meeting and annual Christmas social in the Pine Room of the Coffee Pot Cafe, Dec. 5. A luncheon and gift exchange were observed.

Twenty members were present in addition to guests. Mrs. Carl Bergman, Mrs. L. A. Meuschke and Mrs. Lawrence Koeller.

Mrs. Paul Alpert presented the Christmas story.

President, Mrs. Al Schriener officiated at the business meeting during which officers for the coming year were named by Mrs. Emile Bethke. They are Mrs. Arthur Wagenknecht, president; Mrs. Edgar Ward, vice-president; Mrs. Glenn Kell, secretary, and Mrs. Al Schriener, treasurer.

Mrs. Koeller and Mrs. Meuschke were welcomed as new members.

The meeting closed with prayer and members singing "Silent Night" in unison.

Wide Changes In Industry Are Urged

NEW YORK (AP) — A presidential panel has drafted a report recommending vast changes in the nation's communications industry, the New York Times reported today.

A Washington dispatch by John W. Finney said the committee would submit shortly a report urging a government-sponsored monopoly to transmit all international communications, a pilot project to develop a domestic communications satellite system, and an arrangement to permit Western Union Telegraph Co. to operate from the nation's post offices.

The suggestions were called "probably the most far-reaching recommendations for revamping the nation's communications structure since the passage of the Communications Act of 1934."

The 15-man committee, set up in August 1967 by President Johnson, is headed by Eugene V. Rostow, undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Submission of the report was said to have been delayed — "probably until late this week" — by industry pleas for changes and dissent within the committee.

The Times said "the basic proposal" would merge all international transmission facilities, now owned by several companies, into one privately owned company.

Crash Opens Door To Cool Solution

COOL, Calif. (AP) — Because the 10 Cool firewomen lack manpower to hoist the firehouse door, it has always lain on the ground outside. "Even if the firemen ever got around to installing the door, it would be too heavy for firewomen to open," said Ruth White, 52, a firewoman.

Now the solution may be near: A car left the highway and knocked down Jennie Niegel's front fence, hurling one of the posts through the firehouse door.

The fire lassies say they hope the motorist's insurance will pay for a new, lightweight door.

Vietnam Fighting Continues

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops battled American infantrymen at two points north of Saigon Monday, shelled a dozen bases and towns during the night and burned down 125 homes in two undefended hamlets in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The ground fighting was on familiar battlegrounds along the jungle routes leading toward Saigon. A total of 16 Americans and 59 of the enemy were reported killed in the two encounters, and 19 Americans were wounded.

The heaviest fighting raged in dusty underbrush and towering forests about 60 miles north of Saigon and only four miles from An Loc, a key provincial capital.

About 150 troops from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were out looking for troops of the North Vietnamese 7th Division when they came under intense fire from well fortified bunkers. "It was close in fighting," said a U.S. spokesman.

U.S. Air Force dive bombers came to the aid of the air cavalrymen, and 45 of the enemy were reported killed in the day-long fight. But 14 of the American soldiers were killed and 17 were wounded.

About 25 miles north-north west of Saigon, U.S. infantrymen and an armored column from the 25th Division clashed with enemy troops while on a sweep. At least 14 enemy bodies were found afterward, cut down by fire from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Two Americans were killed and two wounded, and a Communist defector scouting for the American infantrymen also was killed.

U.S. intelligence sources say the enemy has 15,000 to 25,000 troops deployed along a 100-mile stretch of the Cambodian border.

"It could be he has as many as 30,000," the source said, "but I don't think so."

In the Central Highlands, Viet Cong or North Vietnamese soldiers entered two undefended hamlets 18 miles west of Pleiku, burned down 125 homes of the mountain tribesmen known as Montagnards, and abducted one hamlet chief and four other officials. The Montagnards often fight under the leadership of the U.S. Special Forces and their homes may have been burned as a warning.

The U.S. Command also announced that anti-aircraft missiles, the Soviet SAMs, were fired at a U.S. Navy photo reconnaissance plane and its jet fighter escorts over the North Vietnamese city of Vinh Monday but "all aircraft successfully evaded the SAMs and returned safely."

It was the third time since the bombing of North Vietnam was halted Nov. 1 that SAMs have been reported fired at American reconnaissance planes and their escorts. One plane was damaged by a missile that exploded near it but the pilot made it back to his carrier.

Earlier, the U.S. Command had announced that an Air Force reconnaissance Phantom was shot down Monday by anti-aircraft fire about 55 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The two crewmen ejected into the Tonkin Gulf, and a helicopter picked them up. It was the fourth American plane shot down over North Vietnam since the bombing halt.

U.S. headquarters also announced that two more American helicopters were shot down Monday in widely separated areas of South Vietnam. Two crewmen were wounded. The losses raised to 952 the number of American combat helicopters shot down over South Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

Rockefeller Will Run For Fourth Term

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he intends to run for a fourth term as governor, primarily to complete major urban development programs which he started.

"I am planning to run again in 1970 unless something intervenes in the meantime," Rockefeller said Monday.

"I've got these things going," the governor said, "the Urban Development Corp., the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and the antipollution programs—that are ready to help the cities and the state—and I wouldn't want to leave them."

The $6 billion Urban development program has broad slum-rebuilding powers. The programs, Rockefeller continued, "haven't yet been realized, and they might never be realized if I don't follow them through."

Rockefeller discussed his urban programs Monday morning in a speech before the 45th annual Congress of the National League of Cities in New Orleans. He flew back to New York later in the day aboard his private plane.

Rotarians Hear Songs At Party

Members of the Rotary Club of Sedalia, their wives and guests, were entertained at the Holiday Inn on Monday night by the Sedalia Men's Choral Club. This was the annual Christmas dinner party for the club and more than 150 were in attendance.

John Vandekamp, director, presented the group in a wide variety of popular numbers and Christmas carols. He was assisted by Raymond Hall, assistant director. Mrs. Keith Maynard played the piano accompaniment.

In the spirit of the season, the club membership voted to participate in a Christmas gift program for 23 foster children in Pettis County and $50 was made available for this purpose. Members of the club volunteered to man the Salvation Army Christmas Kettle on December 18.

Dr. Stanley Fisher, club president, recognized Mr. and Mrs. William Hurlbut, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartzler, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Tempel and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Siragusa, who handled arrangements for the party. William Hurlbut was chairman of the committee.

On behalf of the club, Dr. Fisher presented a framed Certificate of Appreciation to The Sedalia Democrat and Capital for its news coverage of Rotary and other civic club activities throughout the year. K. U. Love, Rotary member and Sedalia Democrat Company president, accepted the award.

A letter of citation read in part, "The interesting and thorough manner in which you have so faithfully reported the meetings and activities of our club, and of the other worthwhile civic clubs, is a great service to the entire community. By being 'involved' in the entire community you typify the principle concept of Rotary."

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, president of the Pettis County Easter Seal Society (The Missouri Society for Crippled Children and Adults), presented Dr. David Robinson with a Certificate of Appreciation issued by Dr. Roy Davidson of the state headquarters of the society in recognition of his many years of service to the organization.

Guests for the meeting were: Mrs. John Herring, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartzler; Dr. Reinhold Fischer, guest of Dr. Roy Keller; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blackwell and Mrs. Martha Deck, guests of John Brown; Miss Mary Hurlbut, guest of her brother, William; Mrs. Ernest Thompson, guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Zulauf; Mrs. Violet Hopkins, guest of her son, William S. Hopkins; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Letourneau, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lowe; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Deck, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bowman, and Mrs. A. G. Hausam, guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Sillers. Student guests from Sacred Heart High School were Dan Fischer and Ron Huhman.

Jim Edwards led in group singing of Christmas carols and Don Barnes gave the invocation.

The head table centerpiece was presented to Mrs. Stanley Fisher, wife of the club president, at the conclusion of the meeting by Robert Hartzler, December program chairman, and the ladies in attendance received the table decorations. Jack Golliday, Sedalia manager of Commonwealth Theatres, presented a gift to each member.

Clifford

dies $180 million. Clifford would not say how these spending cuts leaves the 1969 spending total but he spoke of budget pressures which have arisen.

The defense chief also said: "He hopes the United States and the Soviet Union can get started soon on talks at any level toward the possible limitation and ultimate reduction of strategic weapons."

He did not feel the incoming administration of President-elect Richard M. Nixon would object if Present Johnson went ahead with broad policy talks on strategic arms reductions with Russia.

The North Vietnamese use Cambodia as a route of infiltrating troops into South Vietnam but there are no plans to take any military action against Cambodia.

—There is "no merit" to a Soviet charge that the movement of U.S. ships into the Black Sea is provocative. Clifford said U.S. ships have operated in that area before and that the cruise this week by two American destroyers this week was a routine voyage.

The U.S. Geological Survey scientists calculate that the heat in the upper six miles of earth crust beneath the United States equals the energy generated by 900 trillion tons of coal.

Accidents

No injuries were reported in a two-car accident at Seventh and Ohio at 10:34 a.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1963 Pontiac driven east on Seventh by Patty J. Simmons, 23, Route 2, and a 1963 Mercury driven south on Ohio by Pearl M. Berryman.

Damage was to the left side of the Pontiac and the front of the Mercury.

Mrs. Berryman was issued a police summons for careless and imprudent driving.

An accident in the 600 block of West Broadway at 7:56 a.m. Tuesday involved a 1964 Plymouth driven east on Broadway by Dale A. Wilson, 17, Route 3; a 1968 Chevrolet driven east on Broadway by Pauline Gehlken, 33, Route 1; and a 1967 Ford also driven east on Broadway by Kathryn Schumacher, 21, Route 1, Cole Camp.

The police report indicated that there was no damage to the Wilson car, moderate damage to the Gehlken vehicle, and heavy damage to the Schumacher car.

Violence

with Pan American College of Edinburg, Tex.

Most of the students then sat on the court until, after 45 minutes, the game was canceled. Earlier the students discussed demands with school President John X. Jamrich for courses on Negro culture and more Negro faculty members.

Less than five per cent of the school's 7,100 students are Negroes, officials said.

Negro students at Washington University in a St. Louis suburb said their peaceful sit-in would continue until the school meets demands for a black studies program and more financial aid for Negro students.

A special student-faculty committee took testimony Monday on complaints from 11 Negro students who charged harassment by campus police officers. The alleged manhandling of a Negro graduate student touched off the protest last week.

In New York City the Rev. Leo McLaughlin, president of Fordham University agreed to work toward implementation of a number of Negro student demands but his response was denounced by one student leader as "soft soap."

One demand is for a 20 per cent Negro enrollment at the 12,000-student Jesuit institution. Less than 1 per cent of the present enrollment are Negroes.

State University officials in Oshkosh, Wis., said they would meet a federal court ordered deadline for making individual complaints against 90 students, most of them Negro, who were suspended last month following a campus demonstration marked by vandalism.

The protest Nov. 21 erupted after administrators turned down student demands for more Negro faculty and courses in Negro history. It resulted in the temporary closing of the school.

And in Buffalo, N.Y., an open forum on the question "Is there police brutality in Buffalo?" was disrupted when the panel members were pelted by eggs thrown from the audience at the State University at Buffalo.

The shower of five to seven dozen eggs began when a false fire alarm sounded, leading officials to speculate that the alarm was used as a signal to commence the barrage.

Officials apologized and promised to try and identify and prosecute the offenders.

State Will Appeal Court Ruling Here

Pettis County Prosecuting Attorney Henry A. Keeler said Tuesday, it was his understanding that the attorney general will file a notice of appeal with the Pettis County Circuit Court with regard to the ruling made Monday by Judge Frank Hayes declaring unconstitutional the Missouri law which requires motorcycle drivers and passengers to wear helmets.

The Supreme Court of Missouri would then review the case and affirm the Pettis County decision or uphold the constitutionality of the present law.

Begin Official Canvassing Of Election

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — They started the official canvass of Missouri's general election balloting in the basement of the capitol today, right on the button.

Missouri's old election laws specify that the canvass must be started on the second Tuesday of December following the November general election.

To make it official, Secy. of State James C. Kirkpatrick and two supreme court jurists, Judge Fred L. Henley and Judge Robert Donnelly, opened the vote abstracts of their home counties.

Kirkpatrick ripped open the envelope containing the Henry county vote, Henley did the same thing with the Pemiscot county envelope and Donnelly opened the LaCade county package.

Mrs. Eula Huss, the chief clerk who has straw-bossed the canvass of quite a few elections, estimated it would take two to three days to finish this one.

The votes for president and vice president, and for some judges, were canvassed earlier. An early count for president was necessary so the Republican presidential electors for Missouri can meet and cast their formal votes for Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew Dec. 16.

Shriver

President-elect will curb inflation.

Martin, a former president of the New York Stock Exchange and much respected by "sound money" advocates, told reporters at Nixon's Pierre Hotel headquarters that he sees an inflationary psychology continuing.

But when asked if he believed Nixon could put an end to it, Martin replied:

"I think Mr. Nixon will. I was very encouraged by the meeting."

Martin said Nixon asked him to continue on the job until the normal expiration of his term on Jan. 31, 1970.

He said he would stay on and "do everything I can to help Mr. Nixon in the difficult days that he has ahead of him." But he said that for personal—not political—reasons he stopped short of giving a firm commitment to continue until 1970. By then, Martin would have spent 20 years at the helm of the reserve board.

Earlier Monday, Nixon met with a former official who once worked very closely with Martin: Robert B. Anderson, a New York investment banker who was under secretary of defense and secretary of the treasury in the administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. There was no indication of whether Anderson had been sounded out about a new post.

On Monday afternoon, the President-elect announced word of two additional appointments to this White House staff. To serve as special assistant he named Robert J. Brown, 33, of High Point, N.C., and William Safire, a 38-year-old author and New York public relations man who served as a writer in Nixon's 1968 campaign.

Brown, a Negro, was said to be getting an assignment of general scope but, as he put it to newsmen, will concentrate particularly on Nixon's plans to promote "black capitalism." He has been associated with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Shapely Reminder Of Home

By GENE HANDSAKER

Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How do GI's in remote Vietnam bases react to seeing a pretty American blonde?

"Sometimes they're very shy," reports actress Tippi Hedren, "because they've sort of turned girls off. They know they're going to be there four or five months and so, they figure, why think about girls too much?"

After Tippi thawed them out by initiating the conversation, their first question usually was: "How are the girls back home dressing?"

"I told them," she laughs, "everybody's wearing mini-skirts."

Miss Hedren's 12-day Vietnam tour, just completed with Joey Bishop, was her second in two years. By plane and helicopter they made about 15 stops a day "in the boonies as they call them (boondocks), encampments of about 200 guys who don't see anybody for months."

Joey told jokes while Tippi who played in "The Birds" and "Marnie" and who neither sings nor dances, shook hands and talked—"to let them know Americans are thinking of them and are in back of them."

She visited wounded men in hospitals everywhere and found fewer of them there. She thinks the reason is faster evacuation to hospitals back home. She marveled at fast attention in the field: "Within 15 or 30 minutes after a man is shot, he's in a totally equipped hospital. There's almost no need for a field surgeon any more."

For Tippi, who plans another such trip in about six months, the rewards of this one were smiles on men's faces and honors like being chosen "Miss Hog" by men of the 336th Ordnance Battalion, who call themselves "Hogs."

And from Big Red One, the 1st Infantry Division, came a certificate:

"In appreciation of your most welcome visit . . . and for reminding us at this Thanksgiving season that the All-American girl is here to stay."

Plant at Neosho Will Employ 500

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) —

A new chair manufacturing plant at Neosho, expected to employ about 500 people eventually, was announced Monday by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and officials of the La-Z-Boy Chair Co.

It is the seventh new industry announced this year for Neosho, creating more than 1,500 jobs. Neosho is a five-star city under the Missouri Community Betterment Program.

Family Feuding, Fighting Part of County's History

By Hazel Lang

The military road or "the old road" which ran from Boonville to Springfield and on to Fayetteville, Ark., used as early as 1821, and made a proper United States road by an act of Congress in 1835, passed through Hickory County.

The first white settlement was, it is believed, on Lindley Creek, which is now Pittsburg. It is here that two families settled in 1832, the Zumalts and Inglesses. The Vandeviers settled on Stark Creek about 12 miles east of Hermitage about the same time and in the northeast portion, west of Cross Timbers, on North Prairie, was a settlement with enough settlers as early as 1833 to form an organization of the Primitive Baptist Church. The first members recorded were: James Dawson, John Potter, Daniel Lake, Nancy Young, Ann Foster, Nancy Holloway, Nellie Dawson and James Richardson. The preachers were James Richardson, James H. Baker, Hezekiah Parker, Daniel Briggs, Marcus Monroe and James Walker.

Panic Was Result

Soon after 1833 President Jackson vetoed the United States Bank and private banks in great numbers sprang up over the country, flooding the country with cheap money. From 1832 to 1836 there was a reckless speculation in the wild lands of the West and Northwest, and vast sums of this money found their way to the land offices besieged with those wanting to invest in lands.

It was at this time that surveyors on their way from Boonville south surveyed the upper half of Benton County. When President Jackson issued orders for the land offices only to receive payment in gold or silver, the wildcat bills were sent to the banks for redemption and the crash of 1837 followed.

Depressing business in the old states stimulated the emigration westward and Hickory County, although at a distance from the great waterways, caught some of the emigrants which started the settlements in the county.

In 1839, from Tennessee, came the famous Turk family, which consisted of the father, Col. Hiram K. Turk, and four sons, James, Thomas J., Nathan and Robert. The Turks were magnificent specimens of physical manhood: tall, straight, lithe and muscular. Colonel Turk, had a courtly carriage, elegance of dress and dignity of manners, and all the family had good educations for that day. The boys liked horse racing and gambling.

The four Jones brothers were quite opposite the Turks in everything but courage and physical prowess, and from the time the Turks arrived there was trouble between the two families.

Feud of Families

The Turks had a store, perhaps the first in the county, and sold liquor among other things. It was at the August election in 1840 at Turk's house that the first act of drama started, when trouble arose between James Turk and Andy Jones, and, with most of the men having too much liquor, there was a free fight and the Turks won. The Jones clan went into court and the Turks were arrested and bound over.

Abraham C. Nowell, a quiet and peaceful farmer, was unfortunate in being a witness against the Turks, and when he was on the way to court on April 3, 1841, with a neighbor of the Turks, Julius Sutliff, was overtaken by James Turk, who objected to Nowell's testimony against him. When Turk drew his pistol, Nowell, who was unarmed, grabbed Sutliff's gun and shot Turk dead. His friends urged him to flee, which he did, but he returned the next term of court, was tried and acquitted.

Colonel Turk was shot in a brushy hollow near Quincy and Andy Jones and others were acquitted. When the trial was over the Turks were convinced that perjury was easy, and there was no other course open to them but to take things in their own hands. They organized about 100 men and descended on the Jones, who were not home, so they whipped Thomas Meadows so severely with roasted hickory switches, slicking, as they called it, that he died. Then they whipped others. Many were warned to leave the county and so great was the agitation that the militia was called out under the command of Captain Holloway.

Scene of Fight

The Jones party headquartered in Warsaw at "Dutchfort," a German saloon, and Turks at Hastian Hotel. The Turks attacked the Jones party quartered then at the Lemon Hotel until all the Jones party was killed or went to Texas. Nathan Turk followed and was instrumental in seeing that all were killed, some of them hanged for cattle stealing. Nathan was later killed in a fight over a card game. The vendetta raged for two years between the two parties, and Nowell was killed one morning by Tom Turk and Isaac Hobbs, after which Turk and Hobbs quarreled and Hobbs killed Turk.

The county was formed in 1845. Jacob A. Rowans was appointed county seat commissioner, and the new county was hardly started until there was rivalry between the east and the west on the location of the county seat. The first meeting was at the home of Judge Halbert, on the east side of the river, and the people on the west side brought pressure on the authorities for the second meeting at Heard's Spring, a little north of where Wheatland now stands.

The commissioners were very shrewd, however, seeing the feud between the two sides and realizing that it was the river that divided them, they reached a compromise. They decided on a place halfway between the two. The commissioners selected a clear day about noon and came to a place where the river made a sharp loop and turned nearly due south in its course.

Looking at their shadows they knew that they were on the east side of the stream and not having crossed the stream that day they knew they were on the west side, so on this spot they put the county seat, at Hermitage, which was platted in 1847.

As soon as notified of the permanent location, Clerk A. H. Foster, with the records perhaps in his hat, held down with a bandana handkerchief, moved to the county seat's new home. The first seat of justice was a stump. Although there was further feuding, through an election the county seat remained at Hermitage.

Stories will be written about Cross Timbers, Preston, Quincy, Wheatland, Hermitage, Nemo, Weaubleau, Elkton, and Pittsburg.

The Mason-Dixon Line remains the symbolic division between South and North.

New Sculpture Is a Hefty One

NEW YORK (AP) — A 60-ton, 36-foot high outdoor sculpture, executed from a two-foot drawing by Picasso, was dedicated Monday at a New York University apartment complex near Washington Square.

The sandblasted concrete piece, called "Bust of Sylvette" — a ponytailed girl who once modeled for Picasso — was executed by Carl Nesjar, a Norwegian sculptor.

Sylvette rises to the third-story level of surrounding 30-story apartment houses occupied by NYU professors and other university employees in University Plaza facing Bleecker Street in Greenwich Village.

Britain's Leader To Give Reply

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson today prepared a fighting counter blast against attacks on his government's handling of Britain's continuing economic crisis.

Aides said Wilson had not decided whether to unleash his counterattack in the House of Commons or in a nationwide telecast. They expect it this week.

Both government and opposition sources rejected suggestions for a coalition government to restore confidence and deal with the economic ills on an emergency basis. These sources did not deny, however, that Wilson and his colleagues want some sort of limited truce with the opposition to take some vital national issues out of partisan politics.

Foremost among these issues, the informants said, is the strength of the pound sterling, which has been pushing its prescribed floor levels for more than a week. The pound moved in a narrow range around $2.383 at the opening of the exchange today, slightly down from last night's closing.

The Laborites were furious at such statements as Conservative leader Edward Heath's on Friday that the government had "lost all control over our destiny; never in Britain's history has there been an administration so incompetent or so weak."

The Laborites said this could only undermine the standing abroad of Britain and its government.

But the government is also in conflict with its own party. The party's national executive committee has been trying for days to get ministers to appear before it to explain why they have ignored leftist policies overwhelmingly approved by the party's annual convention in October. Wilson was reported to have ordered his ministers to ignore the committee's summons even though the convention unanimously voted it that right of summons.

New State Code On College Role

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The state Board of Higher Education adopted a code Monday aimed at giving students in state universities and colleges the right to join with faculty and administrators in making educational policies.

The code guarantees students the right of peaceful assembly and the right to petition for changes, but it says violence or threats of violence shall be punished.

The code also says all students shall have free and equal access to services provided by the institutions, a guarantee inserted to aid minority groups.

New Nixon Men

Robert J. Brown, left, and William Safire, held a press conference in New York Monday following their appointment in the Nixon administration. Brown, a former policeman from High Point, N.C., will seek ways to develop "black capitalism." Safire, a former reporter and publicist, will serve the administration as a writer. (UPI)

An Author To Live His Book

NEW YORK (AP) — William Safire, a 38-year-old Manhattan public relations man, is the coauthor of a book called "Plunging into Politics"—which he's about to do as a special assistant to President-elect Nixon.

Safire, with three books to his credit, is not exactly new to politics. He's been aiding candidates since 1960.

A round-faced man with thinning hair, Safire was chief of special projects for the national Nixon-Lodge volunteers in the 1960 Republican presidential campaign. Two years later he was deputy manager of the successful re-election campaign of New York's Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits.

More recently, in both 1964 and 1966, he was a campaign aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and, this past spring and fall, was a special campaign assistant to Nixon.

Safire, according to Monday's announcement of his appointment to the Nixon White House staff, will concentrate on "policy and program development."

Asked to describe what that might mean, he said he'd always been a writer and expected to continue in that role at the White House. He said he will help pull together ideas into a cohesive program, argue them out inside Nixon's official family, and, hopefully, get them translated into national policy.

Just this year Safire wrote "The New Language of Politics," described as an etymology of language current in politics and government. He wrote "The Relations Explosion" in 1963 and, four years ago, did his "Plunging into Politics."

A former columnist for the old New York Herald Tribune syndicate, he turned to corporate public relations in 1955. He has headed his own firm, Safire Public Relations Inc. since 1960. Safire married a Britisher, Helene Julius, in London in 1962, and they have a son, Mark, 4, and a daughter, Annabel, 2. They live in Manhattan.

Vermont is the only New England state that was not part of the original 13 colonies.

OTTERVILLE — Mrs. O. W. Howard was hostess to the Otterville Garden Club at the November meeting. Mrs. John Dunham assisted in serving a dessert course to 14 members.

The devotional, "Thanksgiving," was given by Mrs. Leo J. Smith.

Mrs. William Dunham, club president, presided at the business meeting. Roll Call was answered by naming "A Winter Mulch." State and National calendars were distributed.

The civic committee presented plans for plantings to be made at the school grounds in the spring.

The study, "Protecting Our Investment of the Four Seasons," was given by Mrs. Lewis Leaton. She was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Dunham. Mrs. Lewis Smith told of her recent tour of Florida.

"To Him We Give Thanks," an arrangement by Mrs. William Dunham was awarded a blue ribbon.

Horticulture awards, "Last of the Garden," went to Mrs. O. W. Howard; pansy, 1 blue; rose, 1 red; marigold, 1 yellow.

Great 'Hunter' Kills Pet Deer

CLEWISTON, Fla. (AP) — Prince, the tiny white-tail Florida deer who lived in a horse pasture and trusted humans, is dead.

The little buck was a favorite of people who came from miles around to rancher Joe Hilliard's pasture and fed him cookies, fruit and bread.

Sunday evening Hilliard's farm manager said he saw a man drive up to the pasture alongside busy U.S. 27 and get out of a camper truck. Prince came loping up for his usual handout.

"He was about five feet away when the guy shot him in the neck with a load of No. 1 buckshot," said Hendry County Sheriff Earl S. Dyess.

Later Sheriff's men located the truck and arrested Richard

“Christmas Blues”

Our life is frittered
away by detail ...
Simplify, simplify.
—Thoreau

These words from “Walden” should have particular meaning for us at Christmas time, when instead of savoring the quiet joys and mystery of Christmas, we too often find ourselves caught up in a furious cycle of seasonal madness that leaves us exhausted and, inevitably, disappointed.

Psychiatrists have even noted this phenomenon, describing the clinical symptoms of the “Christmas blues” and other assorted anxieties of the season to be merry.

The ingredients of the Yule Syndrome are varied — a hectic shopping pace, a frantic rush of parties, rehearsals, meal planning, decorating, etc., etc. All important and certainly valid parts of Christmas, but not without their cost. The pace we set for ourselves often leaves us at the end with the feeling that, to use a now-quiet phrase, the “real meaning of Christmas” has passed us by.

Some underlying reasons for the Yule Syndrome — which is by no means limited to this country — include the ever-increasing exploitation of Christmas, the decline in religious values that permits the paganizing of the season, the “cool generation” philosophy whose main tenet is the pursuit of pleasure, and never, never be emotional or sentimental. And what is Christmas if it isn't a time for emotion and sentiment — humanity if you will?

Where lies the remedy — or rather the preventative — for the Yule Syndrome? Within ourselves, mostly. It consists of setting aside some time for peace and quiet during the Christmas season to ponder its meaning; to put others above self, people above things, joy above pleasure, the uncomplicated above the complicated.

Simplify, simplify.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Nixon's Move Sidetracks Goldberg

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Relations between the President and President-elect, hitherto more cordial than between any other incoming and outgoing presidents, were disrupted when Nixon moved in on the question of continuing Chief Justice Earl Warren without any consultation whatsoever with Johnson.

Nixon's move had the earmarks of a quick double-play to block the interim appointment of former Justice Arthur Goldberg as Chief Justice.

President Johnson has on his desk right now the resignation of Chief Justice Warren subject to action at any time. He can and still may act on it right up until noon of Jan. 20. And he had been debating such action when out of the clear blue, the President-elect phones Chief Justice Warren asking him to remain as head of the court until June.

Obviously it was not Nixon's prerogative to do this and, furthermore, both protocol and courtesy required him to call the President in advance of his request to Warren. Johnson has leaned over backward to clear with Nixon all questions of policy which affect the country during this interim period.

He cleared with Nixon beforehand the relatively minor matter of the invitation which Secretary of State Rusk conveyed to the NATO foreign ministers in Brussels to attend a NATO 20th anniversary in Washington next September.

He also has taken up with Nixon every detail of the Paris talks, and instructed Ambassador Averell Harriman to call on the President-elect to fill him in further. No step has been taken in the Vietnam negotiations without informing Nixon.

The President also informed the President-elect in some detail regarding his talks with Premier Kosygin and his hopes to have one final conference. He even invited Mr. Nixon to accompany him to Europe, if the talks are finally held.

No president in half a century has been more cooperative toward the new administration, even ordering 17 state department rooms placed at Nixon's disposal, 48 hours after the election — rooms which are still largely unoccupied.

—Heading Off Goldberg—

Because of this there is some belief that Nixon called the Chief Justice deliberately in order to head off the president's plan to appoint former Justice Arthur Goldberg as Chief Justice. Mr. Johnson had been considering this idea ever since his nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice was turned down by the Senate. He was not unkind of the fact that as early as last July, Chief Justice Warren, when asked by the President whom should he appoint as his successor, at first declined to propose a successor, later had discreetly pointed out that the middle west had no representation on the court and that former Justice Arthur Goldberg, who comes from Chicago, would make a great Chief Justice.

While the President put his old friend, Justice Fortas on his list, he did not forget Goldberg. Justice Goldberg had served as Secretary of Labor in the Kennedy Cabinet, then on the Supreme Court, then agreed to resign to tackle the tough problems of Vietnam peace at the U.N.

In the course of considering Goldberg's nomination as Chief Justice, he mentioned it to Nixon during their November luncheon. The appointment was delayed chiefly because the President was seriously considering calling the Senate into special session to act upon the nonproliferation nuclear pact, at which time he planned to ask for Goldberg's confirmation as Chief Justice.

Meanwhile several high-ranking Republicans had urged Nixon to go along with Goldberg's appointment, including former Attorney General Herbert Brownell and Max Fischer of Detroit, one of the biggest money raisers for the Nixon campaign.

It was against this background that the President-elect put in his private call to Chief Justice Warren. The Chief Justice, who has been on the opposite

New Teeth in Labor Laws

Nixon-Unions Battle Looms

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Whatever finesse he may use to avert a clash, Mr. Nixon as president is likely to find himself in a head-on confrontation with the top men of organized labor.

The signs are clear that Nixon would like to avoid a fight. He would like to be known as a president who reconciled labor, management and government. But in a very real sense he may be boxed in. Three programs that Nixon and his aides consider crucial seem almost certain to cause consternation in the nation's major unions:

• For one, Nixon and his men want to revise the Taft-Hartley Act to give more weight to the public interest.

Specifically, the Nixon men would seek legislation barring unions from striking against the public health or safety. The revised law, as Nixon men see it, ideally would bar government employees from striking as the teachers recently did in New York, with such unfortunate results for the pupils (regardless of the rights and wrongs of the issues).

But stronger barriers against strikes likely to do great harm to the public would not be limited to government employees. The changes in law would also be aimed at strikes that would tie up the docks of major cities simultaneously, that would reduce water or power supplies seriously or dangerously curtail the movement of goods by rail or truck.

To offset these restraints, Nixon and his advisers favor greater use of arbitration for government employees. Nixon is determined to propose legislation to insure the participation of federal employees in the formulation and implementation of personnel policies directly related to their employment. The proposed law would spell out procedures to insure that charges of unfair labor practices would be heard by an independent group. It would also provide independent machinery for hearings when a government employee felt his personal rights were being violated.

• There is a strong feeling, among some of Nixon's men at least, that the Fair Employment Practices Act must be enforced more vigorously in labor unions as well as with employers. These Nixon men believe that in some fields of employment union practices make it exceedingly difficult for Negroes to enter trades in major metropolitan areas.

Nixon's men note that in the fair employment field, the law is already written and on the books, that it applies to both unions and employers, and that there is an Equal Employment Opportunities Commission established by law to oversee compliance. These Nixon men believe the Johnson administration has been lax in enforcing the law where unfair union practices are concerned.

• Nixon's men are determined to strengthen the dollar and halt the gold drain. One necessary major attack, they believe, is to strengthen the U.S. competitive position by slowing inflation and by helping industry to cut costs and thus better compete with foreign producers.

This would seem to necessitate some sort of a balance between wage increases and improvements in industrial productivity.

President Johnson had wage-price guidelines—which were not followed. They therefore made him no enemies in the unions.

What Nixon's men propose isn't clear yet. But whatever they suggest along the line of wage-increase restraints is not likely to be popular with union leaders, assuming that they intend to enforce whatever program they propose.

BARBS

Want to tell you about the police chief who wanted to arrest the leader of the local nudist colony, but had nothing on him.

The announcement that the new year will see a “second season” of something truly new in video fare should be taken with a grain of salt.

Q—What is considered the greatest biography of modern times?

A—Carl Sandburg's book, “Abraham Lincoln.” The work was originally published in two parts, “The Prairie Years” and “The War Years.” Sandburg won the Pulitzer history prize in 1940 for “The War Years.”

Tim Holland of New York is one of the best of our amateur golfers and he is also pretty good at bridge.

Like most rubber bridge players, he is inclined to shade his no-trump opening bids a trifle, thus he opened two no-trump with today's 20-point hand. North used Stayman, hoping that Tim might have four spades, and went to three no-trump after Tim showed his heart suit.

Three no-trump is an almost hopeless contract and the club lead made things look even worse.

However, if you open 20-point two no-trumps, you had better be resourceful and Tim managed to make the contract. He took East's jack of clubs with the king and promptly led a club back. West smiled happily and proceeded to run off his four club tricks.

East wasn't as happy as his partner. He had to make three discards and decided to let one spade and two hearts go. Tim's discards from dummy were two spades, from his own hand the 10 and seven of hearts.

West noticed these discards and led his nine of hearts after finishing with the clubs. East's king fell to Tim's ace and Tim was ready to make a last desperate effort to get the rest of the tricks. He led his deuce of diamonds to dummy's king, returned a spade and finessed the jack, played the ace of spades to drop East's king and cashed the queen.

East had to unguard either the jack of hearts or queen of diamonds and went wrong. He protected the diamond and Tim's deuce of hearts made the last trick.

WHY CHRISTMAS ALMOST WASN'T

Women's Education Coordinator Speaks to Pettis Homemakers

Mrs. Ruth George, program coordinator of Continuing Education for Women, University of Missouri Extension Division, was the speaker at the installation luncheon of the Pettis County Extension Homemakers, held Dec. 6th, at Wesley United Methodist Church.

"What are the rolls as women today?" Mrs. George asked, "What are your talents and ambitions?"

Mrs. George stressed the need of an extension homemaker club that the members should be studied to see what type women are in the club, the age groups, and if they are using the resources for educational progress. She told them to examine their resources and see how they might enrich their lives through worthwhile magazines and books.

Using the flower garden as a theme she showed slides of various flowers: the young bride, fresh as a daisy; the young mother, and homemaker; a petunia, the mum, a career homemaker; the pansy, having children of school age and feeling sad because she can't do more; the violet, whose family has grown up and left home, eager to be picked; and the grandmother, the sweet pea, with her experience, wanting the younger ones to take the lead but wanting to be included.

Mrs. George questioned what methods they use when they met and how they involved new members. Sometimes clubs are so happy to have new members she said, that right off they put them in as president, work them so hard that maybe they drop out the next year. She asked, too, if everybody had a job or were just a few doing everything.

There should be new ingredients, new goals, new members, new methods. Change, just like new flowers, new subject matter, and the thing needed is ability to manage well. In community service are they doing their best job as a leader, getting along with people.

Often women will say "I'd like to do something but I don't know what to do," she added. Many women are going into paid employment. If a woman wants to work and has no skills there are courses in which they can be retrained.

Mrs. George pointed out, too, that women have many skills which could be used only in part time work. Why do the hours need to be from 8 to 5 or any set time, she asked? There are many other things to be interested in, such as oil and water-color painting, history of the area in which they live.

There are new tools and new methods of learning she commented. The University of Missouri offers consultation with individuals and groups; research to identify educational needs and interests; courses offering credit or non-credit, short courses, correspondence courses; communication devices to extend educational opportunities, television, film, radio, tapes, Telecture; lectures to help identify and solve problems; prepared materials for individual and group study; educational seminars and conferences in cooperation with organizations and public agencies.

The new officers of the Pettis County Extension Homemakers Councils of Pettis County were installed by the retiring Council president, Mrs. Raymond Wasson. They are: Mrs. Don Livingston, president; Mrs. Paul Neizert, president elect; Mrs. Charles Dilthey, secretary; Mrs. H. P. Hutchison, treasurer. Mrs. Wasson used an original idea for the installation, taking for her subject trees, with good roots being the ones who laid the foundation, the trunk representing the officers reaching upward and always growing, and the leaves, all of the members.

Mrs. Wasson was named the Outstanding Homemaker of 1968 of Pettis County Extension Homemakers and presented a beautiful white mum corsage. She was then given a silver candy dish for her services as president of the council. She was the candidate from the Thursday Club for the honor of Outstanding Homemaker.

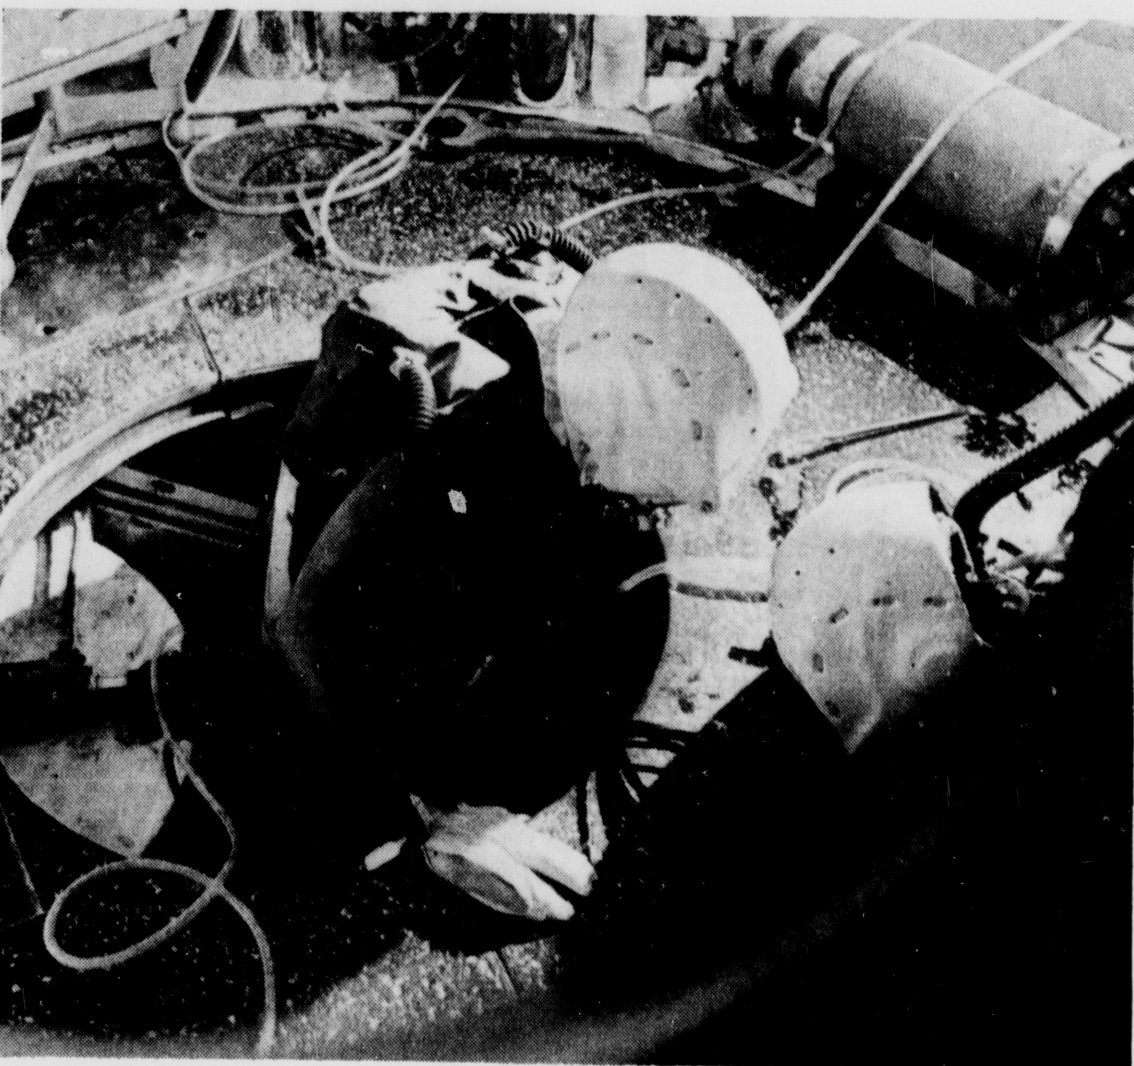

Other candidates chosen from their clubs were: Mrs. H. P. Hutchison, Bothwell; Mrs. J. H. Parson, Brick; Mrs. F. R. Rice, Bryson; Mrs. Buell Hoard, Camp Branch; Mrs. Eugene

Scotten, Elk Fork; Mrs. Chester Wissman, Flat Creek; Mrs. Rudy Rehmer, Happy Homakers; Mrs. Don Livingston, High Point; Mrs. H. H. ## Vice President Holds Less Status Nowadays

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Being a vice president no longer makes you stand out very far from the crowd. America is getting to be a land of veeeps. It is said there are now nearly half a million company vice presidents—a Gee Whiz item if true.

The more people ride around in cars, the bigger their feet seem to grow. The average shoe size for today's hulking young men is 10-D, a full size larger than the average of only a dozen years ago.

Speaking of automobiles, how many do you have and how old are they? Nearly one out of every four U.S. families now owns two or more cars. Some six million vehicles still on the road are 12 years of age or over.

Once a pioneer shows the way, others are usually quick to follow. Only 103 years ago, so far as is known, an Englishman named Edward Whymper first accomplished the formidable feat of climbing the famous Alpine peak, the Matterhorn. In favorable weather today, says the National Geographic Society, about 60 persons a day successfully scale it.

How about giving the U.S. farmer a pat on the back? He's getting more efficient all the time. Powered by machinery now rather than by the help of a lop-eared mule, he is able to grow enough food to feed himself and 42 other people, something no other man in history has been able to do.

Quotable notables: "Always fall in love with what you're asked to accept. Take what is given, and make it over your own way. My aim in life has always been to hold my own with whatever's going. Not against: with." —Poet Robert Frost.

Seasonal: Holly sprigs were symbols of cheer long before Christmas was widely observed. Ancient Greeks carried the shrub to bring good luck, just as some people today keep a rabbit foot in their pocket, and Romans thought the holly planted around their homes would ward off lightning.

Signs of the times: Love seems to be a universal tongue. Those popular "I Am Loved" buttons now are available in five languages.

Worth remembering: "It is very hard to fight temptation. There is always the nagging thought—it may not come again."

It was St. John of the Cross who advised, "Take heed not to meddle in things which do not concern you, nor even allow them to pass through your mind, for perhaps you will not then be able to fulfill your own task."

CINCINNATI (AP) — Danny McCurk, a Cincinnati youth, fell into a six-foot hole at an excavation site near his home and wound up in mud almost to his neck. A friend tried for a half hour to free him, then called firemen who took 1½ hours more to free Danny.

Afterward, the youth said, "Yech! It was like, well, like gush, I guess."

Two Views Differ On Transplants

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Canon Michael Hamilton of the Episcopal Washington, D.C., Cathedral, told a recent seminar that he saw no theological reasons why organ transplants should be considered unethical. "God gave man dominion over his environment and by implication over his body," he said.

However, Dr. R. Paul Ramsey, chairman of the Department of Religion at Princeton University, said, "Sometimes death is desirable as against the forced life of a man."

Wool Contest Slated For Next Saturday

The District 4 "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest will be held Saturday, Dec. 14, at the First United Methodist Church, Fourth and Osage.

Pre-registration totals 120 girls. These include the seniors, ages 17 to 21, juniors, 14 to 16 and sub-deb, 10 to 13. Mrs. William T. Reid, Houstonia, is District 4 director. Counties include: Bates, Benton, Camden, Cass, Henry, Hickory, Johnson, Morgan, Pettis, St. Claire, Cooper and Moniteau.

The judging will start at 8:30 a.m. and during the morning the wool garments are judged on the hangers for construction; on the girl, without accessories, for fit; and on the girl, with accessories, for fashionability.

A luncheon will be served at noon which is given by the Sedalia Charter Chapter, Business Women's Association. This organization has sponsored the luncheon for a number of years. Mrs. Mary Maddox serves as chairman.

The fashion show will be held at 2:10 p.m. The result of the contest will be announced at the close of the fashion show. The top winners in the Junior and Senior divisions will go on to compete with girls from the 11 other districts in Missouri in the state contest which will be held in Columbia on Jan. 3 and 4.

The winner of the state contest in both divisions will then go to San Francisco, Calif., for national competition.

The "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association, the American Wool Council and the Missouri Wool Growers.

The basic rule for the contest is that the fabric must be American-made with no less than 95 per cent wool content.

Paris Talks Will Begin From Hard Line Stand

PARIS (AP) — Negotiators are heading into the expanded conference on Vietnam with avowed goals that seem unbridgeable.

What the diplomats are willing to settle for, to bring about a peace settlement, will be seen after they get down to serious and probably secret bargaining.

Following in brief are the major announced aims of the four participants in the coming talks:

UNITED STATES

"To preserve the right of the South Vietnamese people to determine their own future without outside interference or coercion."

Withdrawal of U.S. and other allied contributing forces from South Vietnam "as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, stops infiltration and the level of violence subsides."

A settlement basically in line with the 1954 Geneva accords for peace and independence in Indo-China, with restoration of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam under international controls pending reunification of the country and stronger international supervision of a settlement than the Geneva agreements provided.

A government of South Vietnam based on the principle of self-determination with peaceful participation open to all on the basis of one-man, one-vote.

Reunification of Vietnam "to be settled peacefully by the people in North Vietnam and the people in South Vietnam."

Observance of the 1962 Geneva agreement for Laos' independence and neutrality.

Cooperative economic development of Southeast Asia with U.S. aid.

NORTH VIETNAM

"Recognition of the basic national rights of the Vietnamese people and with a clear distinction between the aggressor and the victim of aggression."

In accord with the Geneva agreements, recognition of the Vietnamese people's basic rights to peace, independence, sovereignty, unity and territorial integrity.

Withdrawal from South Vietnam of all U.S. troops and weapons; dismantling of all U.S. bases there; cancellation of America's "military alliance" with South Vietnam.

Strict respect for the DMZ and other military provisions of the Geneva agreements pending reunification of North and South.

"The internal affairs of South Vietnam must be settled by the South Vietnamese people themselves, in accordance with the program of the South Vietnam National Liberation Front without any foreign interference."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam to be settled by the people in both North and South, without any foreign interference.

SOUTH VIETNAM

"An end to the aggression in South Vietnam" and "a genuine, lasting and guaranteed peace."

Withdrawal of all North Vietnamese forces.

De-escalation of the war by Hanoi after the talks begin.

Solution of the Viet Cong-NLF problem by the Saigon government as an internal affair, with the NLF to "give up its weapons, its armed aggression and communism." One-man, one-vote principle applies "only to those who return from the other side."

Peaceful reunification of Vietnam through direct negotiation between Saigon and Hanoi, with free elections in the South looking toward a unified government, provided free elections are held in the North too.

NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT

"Abolish the disguised colonial regime established by the U.S. imperialists in South Vietnam."

Hold free general elections with universal suffrage and secret ballot to elect a National Assembly which will draw up a new constitution.

"Set up a democratic national union government including the most representative persons among the various social strata, nationalities, religious communities, patriotic and democratic parties, and forces which have contributed to the cause of national liberation."

Reunification of Vietnam by negotiation between North and South.

A Vietnamese foreign policy based on "peace and neutrality."

UCLA and North Carolina Dominate College Courts

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
 UCLA and North Carolina continued their domination of The Associated Press major college basketball poll today, but once you get past them, anything goes.

Duke and St. Bonaventure replaced Kansas and Houston in the Top Ten while Davidson, New Mexico, Cincinnati and Villanova gained ground and Kentucky and Notre Dame also dropped back.

UCLA, meanwhile, held fast, grabbing all 30 first place votes after beating Ohio State and Notre Dame last week, and North Carolina took every second-place ballot following victories over Oregon twice and Kentucky.

The loss dropped Kentucky from third to fourth place with Davidson jumping from a sixth place tie to third with victories over Furman and Vanderbilt, which fell from 12th out of the rankings.

New Mexico tripped Hawaii twice and rose from eighth to

No. 5 and Cincinnati walloped Kansas State and North Dakota State, moving it up three places to sixth.

Villanova, 10th last week, took the No. 8 spot after beating Princeton and Philadelphia Textile and the Bonnies hammered Detroit College and St. Francis, Pa., to move from 11th and 10th.

Duke made the biggest leap on the strength of victories over Alabama and Princeton. The Blue Devils jumped from 16th to ninth.

Notre Dame fell two places to seventh while Kansas dropped even farther, from fourth to 11th, after losing to Wisconsin. Houston, a loser to Southern California, plummeted from a tie for sixth to 12th.

LaSalle, grabbing No. 20, was the only new fac in the Top Twenty that is missing Tennessee and Marquette along with Vanderbilt.

Ohio State's loss to UCLA cost the Buckeyes four places, to 17th. Western Kentucky, No. 15, and Santa Clara, No. 16, each rose two places, and Purdue,

No. 13, Detroit, No. 15, California, No. 18, and Iowa, No. 19, each moved up one notch.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:

1. UCLA (30)	3-0	600
2. North Carolina	3-0	540
3. Davidson	3-0	431
4. Kentucky	2-1	267
5. New Mexico	3-0	234
6. Cincinnati	3-0	211
7. Notre Dame	1-1	199

8. Villanova	3-0	174
9. Duke	3-0	160
10. St. Bonaventure	2-0	158
11. Kansas	2-1	154
12. Houston	3-1	125
13. Purdue	2-1	100
14. Detroit	4-0	79
15. Western Kentucky	4-0	78
16. Santa Clara	3-0	66
17. Ohio State	1-1	50
18. California	2-0	40
19. Iowa	3-0	35
20. LaSalle	1-0	32

Roadrunners Take A Fourth Victory

The State Fair Community College Roadrunners pulled out another cliff-hanger last night when they beat the Trenton Junior College Pirates at Trenton, 60-54. It took an overtime to do it, but as in the last three out of four games, the Roadrunners were true to the test in the final minutes of the game.

This game left the local Junior College team still undefeated, having won the first four games in their 20-game schedule.

Facing the Pirates, who had a 4-1 record up to last night, the Roadrunners took an early lead and were ahead 28-17 at the half. The Trenton team whittled away at the State Fair lead and with five minutes to go at the end of the game with the Pirates tying at 43-43. The two teams battled up to the final whistle with the Pirates taking the lead at 52-50. Steve Lower, the Roadrunner substitute guard, was fouled with 57 seconds to go, and he calmly dumped in both foul shots tying the game again at the regulation time.

In the 5-minute overtime, the Roadrunners were the masters of the extra period. This was keyed by Dave Bratcher, 6'6" center, who got the tip and then went in for a lay-up. Lower proved his worth again by converting a foul into two free throws. Dick Phillips, who had his usual outstanding night of shooting with 17 points, made the other field goal. Only Davis, Trenton guard, was able to score for the Pirates during the overtime. The final score was 60-54.

Coach Fred Wehking used a platoon system during the game and got good service, particularly defensively, for the entire team. Bratcher, who is rapidly improving with each game, came through with 15 points and garnered a season high of 15 rebounds.

The undefeated Roadrunners will play the Mid-American Nazarene College from Kansas next Friday night, starting at 8 p.m. at the Agriculture Building, State Fairgrounds. Another large crowd is expected. Over 1,200 fans have been attending the local games.

The scoring of the Trenton game:

Sedalia: Amos, 0; Laird, 2; Lightfoot, 6; Phillips, 17; Bratcher, 15; Cooke, 1; Kunderlen, 3; Lower, 4; Turnbull, 6; Wright, 6. Total, 60.

Trenton: Lewis, 18; Cheek, 9; Richardson, 8; Hoskins, 5; Griffith, 12; Davis, 6. Total, 54.

Frazier Favored To Retain Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joe Frazier is a 2-1 favorite to successfully defend his six-state heavyweight championship tonight in a scheduled 15-rounder against Oscar Bonavena of Argentina.

Frazier agrees with the odds-makers. "I'll smoke him out in six," claims the confident champion from Philadelphia.

"He's gonna go," says Frazier of the curly, black-haired Argentine, who two years ago twice knocked him down before losing a hotly disputed split decision in New York.

"That was two years ago and I was green," Frazier retorts when reminded of the double knockdown and the close verdict. "I've learned a lot since then. That's why I wanted Bonavena again. I wasn't happy with the first fight, either.

Bonavena, however, doesn't lack for confidence. He boasts a 36-4 record with 27 knockouts and predicts a victory.

"I'll knock him out and take the title home to South America," Bonavena asserts.

The 26-year-old Bonavena tried a little psychology on Frazier at their recent physical examination. He shook his right fist in the champion's face and asked pointedly, "Remember this?"

There was no doubt in the minds of any onlookers, including Frazier's, that the challenger was building his confidence on those two first-fight knockdowns.

Frazier is unbeaten in 21 fights and won the heavyweight title of New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois last March 4 with an 11th-round technical knockout over previously unbeaten Buster Mathis. Lather, his home state of Pennsylvania belatedly recognized the Frazier title claim, followed by New Jersey.

In his first defense, Frazier knocked out Manuel Ramos of Mexico in the second round and thereby added Mexico to his domain. Jimmy Ellis of New York, World Boxing Association heavyweight champion, is recognized as king elsewhere.

Ring Magazine still lists Cassius Clay as the reigning titleholder, despite his conviction on draft evasion charges.

Only two opponents have gone the distance with Frazier since the 1964 Olympic heavyweight gold medal winner turned professional. They were Bonavena and George (Scrap Iron) Johnson.

Both of these rankled the champion, especially the Bonavena decision. Frazier wants to be the first man to kayo the gritty South American.

Knob Noster Wins Holden Tournament

HOLDEN — The Holden Tournament came to a close Saturday night with Knob Noster winning over Warrensburg Public High 51-50 in as close a basketball game as one could wish for. At half-time, the score stood 17-17, with Warrensburg taking the lead by one point at the end of the third quarter. However, the Panthers managed to score as the bell sounded to cap off a very exciting game for a one-point victory.

Knob Noster: 6 11 17 17—51
 Warrensburg: 11 6 18 15—50

Individual scoring: Knob Noster—Harris, 32; Wharton, 11; Fuller, 5; Hartke, 3. For Warrensburg—Bass, 14; Briscoe, 13; Robb, 11; Gouchat, 7; Lederer, 5.

In the Calhoun and Holden game, Calhoun outscored Holden in three of the four periods for a 74-57 victory and third place in the tournament. Two men who led to their victory were John Avery who scored 34 points and B. Everett who grabbed 20 rebounds. Grethen led Holden's attack with 24 points.

In the consolation game for 5th place, Harrisonville maintained their 26-18 lead over Windsor at the half for a 56-47 victory.

Fayette Defeats Otterville

CLASCOV — After a first period that saw the score tied, the Fayette Falcons took a 17-point lead over the Eagles of Otterville at the half which led to their victory Saturday night in the Glasgow Tournament, 68-52.

High scorers for Fayette were Bentley with 16; Stidham, 12; McClinton, 10; Brown, 14. For Otterville, it was Marcum scoring 21 and Gehrke with 12.

Scores by quarter:
 Otterville 16 8 10 18—52
 Fayette 16 25 17 10—68

Bengals Drop Game For Third Place

By Con Chapman

A disputed offensive foul call with 17 seconds left frustrated a fourth quarter Sedalia blitz as Versailles' Tigers grabbed third place in the Tipton Tourney Saturday night, downing Smith-Cotton 57-55.

The decision returned the ball to Versailles with 15 seconds left, giving guard Bill Laurie the opportunity to score on a 20-foot jumper. Laurie, team mate Rodney Cable and Sedalia Bob Logan tied for high-point honors with 18 each.

Sedalia, behind by as much as nine points throughout, opened the fourth quarter swiftly, earning a tie score with four minutes left.

Consistent inside shooting by Logan, Jim Lewis and Skip Tournquist gave the locals a four point advantage with two minutes remaining. A series of offensive turnovers, however, enabled Versailles to know the score with a minute left.

Smith-Cotton proved a second half ball club as Lewis and Logan scored the bulk of their totals in the final stanzas. Skip Tournquist turned in 12 of his 17 rebounds during late period play, controlling the boards to set the stage for the late Sedalia charge.

Score by Quarters:
 Versailles 12 16 16 13—57
 Sedalia 8 12 15 20—55

Individual scoring for Versailles—Beene, 12; Laurie, 18; Garber, 2; Cable, 18; Schad, 2; Woolsey, 2; Anderson, 1; Bench, 2; Sedalia—Woolery, 4; Lewis, 16; Logan, 18; Browder, 2; Tournquist, 13; Nash, 0; Greene, 2.

Spirit and Unity Mark Smith-Cotton Cage Team

By Con Chapman

Fifteen dejected young men walked into Smith-Cotton's locker room with fourth place in the Tipton Tournament and five points separating them from a perfect record.

Coach Schwartz spoke, then corrected himself. He of course registered displeasure with a losing record, but talked with pride of his team's efforts.

"We've expected early season mistakes with a revamped offense," the Bengal mentor continued, "but with our home season starting we'll expect fewer."

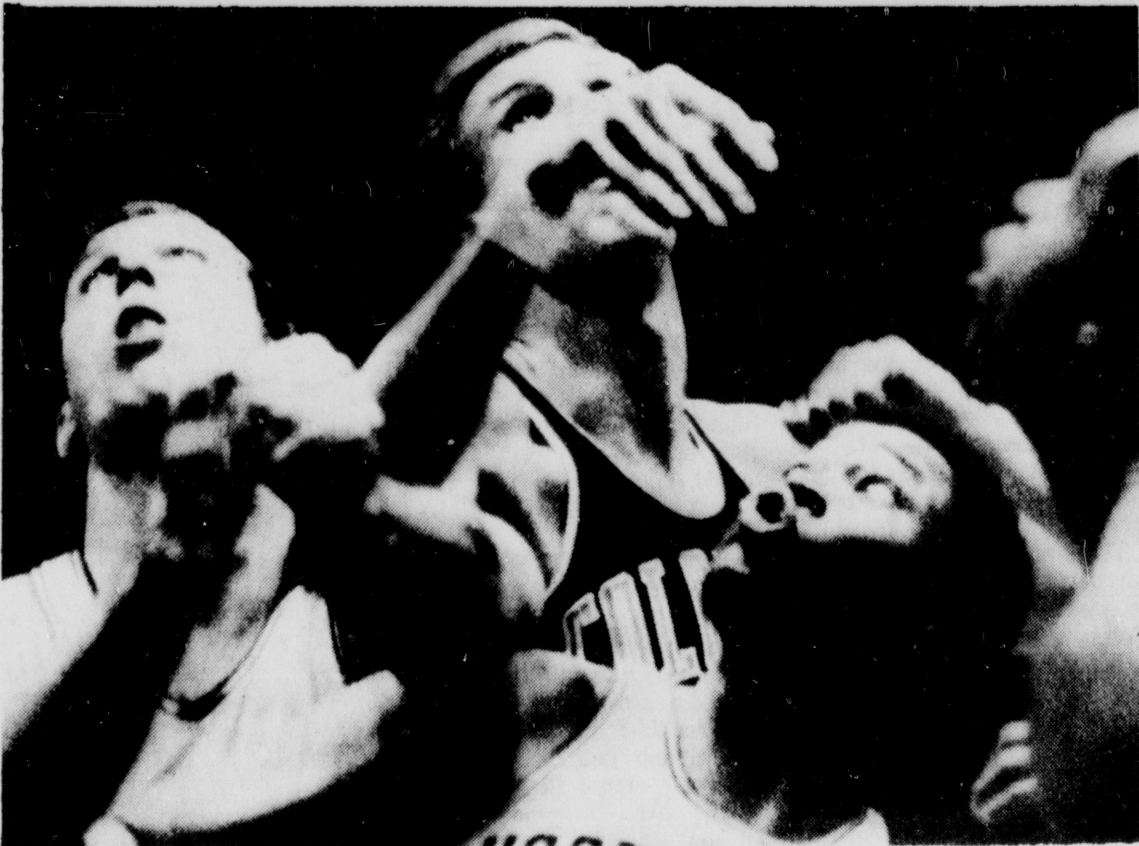

This year's squad boasts no heroes, can point to no real team leaders. It is a team comprised of players having few press clippings. There is however a unity and spirit absent from recent Black and Gold squads. The Tigers recognize each others' abilities and shortcomings and play like a winner.

There is a particular sensitivity that pervades the squad. Most were on last year's 6-18 team, and will do anything to prevent the same thing from happening again. From the looks of things, nothing of the sort will.

Boonville is next, and the Bengals will carry a height advantage into the contest. The Pirates utilize either a man-to-man or a 2-1-2 zone, and the team has seen both this year. Boonville was last year's state runnerup in Class M play, however, and will field a squad used to winning.

Sedalia fans may be treated to unfamiliar fireworks Tuesday night.

Day The Clock Ran Out

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Before the game with the Baltimore Colts, we got together in the locker room, the way we always do, just the players, just by ourselves, and Bob Skoronski, the offensive captain, spoke first.

"We've dedicated games to the fans and to the coaches and to individual players," Ski said, "but let's play this game for the guys who've made this the team it's been. A lot of us won't be here next year. A lot of us are playing our last game at Lambeau Field..."

Bob couldn't say any more.

He was more emotional than I'd ever seen him. He was about ready to cry. I started thinking about the guys who wouldn't be here next year. Henry Jordan, Ski, Willie Davis, maybe Bart Starr, maybe Forrest Gregg, maybe me.

I couldn't help remembering what my son, Danny, said to me the other day. He's only 4 years old, and he was sitting at the kitchen table, and he looked up at me, and he said, "Dad, we're just getting too old."

Listening to Ski, listening to Willie Davis, I get very high emotionally. As a team, I guess, we've played with a lack of emotion all year, but that day we were just filled with emotion. Maybe we were too high.

We went out and we made mistakes—fumbles, interceptions, missed assignments—the kind of mistakes that are generally caused by extra effort, by too much emotion, not by any lack of effort.

I felt we could win the game. I felt it all the way. The game typified the whole season. It was a big disappointment.

Big Eight Teams Win Five Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Eight Conference basketball teams won five non-league games and lost one Monday night, improving their season standing to 21-8.

Kansas easily beat Xavier 79-56 at Lawrence; Kansas State needed an overtime to get past Indiana 87-83 at Manhattan; Iowa State whipped San Fernando State 97-61 at Ames; Oklahoma State defeated South Dakota State 72-67 at Stillwater, and Oklahoma beat Texas Tech 83-74 at Norman.

Colorado absorbed its first loss in five games, bowing to Northwestern 83-66 at Evans-ton. Cliff Meely of Colorado was the top shooter with 28 points. Northwestern, trailing at first, took a 37-34 halftime edge and stayed in front. Northwestern also is 4-1.

Kansas, taller than Xavier, built a 36-24 halftime margin, then opened the second half with seven straight points and went on from there. They used an aggressive zone defense. Phil Harmon got 16 points and Jo Jo White 15 for the Jayhawks, who have a 3-1 record.

K-State's Gene Williams scored six points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime and Steve Honeycutt hit two free throws with five seconds left to insure Indiana's downfall. Williams and Terry Snider led the Wildcats with 20 points each. K-State is 1-2.

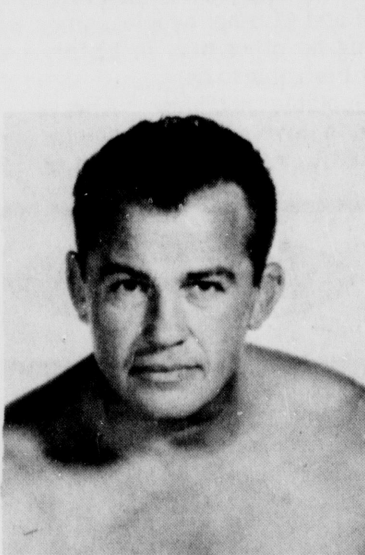

Iowa State made its record 5-0 with Bill Cain leading a balanced attack. Cain made 19 points, Erin Jenkins 18, Dave Collins 13 and Jim Abrahamson 12.

Oklahoma was too tall for Texas Tech. The Sooners' biggest lead was 16 points. Garfield Heard, 6-foot-6, made 16 points and Clifford Ray, 6-9, added 15. Oklahoma has a 2-1 mark.

Sophomore Amos Thomas led Oklahoma State with 20 points and his floor play in the closing seconds made the victory over South Dakota State possible. OSU is 2-0.

San Fernando (1-2) moves on to Missouri (2-2) tonight while Wichita (0-2) challenges Nebraska (2-1) at Lincoln.

Etchison and Martin Seek Tag Team Title

Ronnie Etchison

Veteran Ronnie Etchison and third-year pro Tommy Martin will make their bid for the North American tag team wrestling title when they collide tonight with Dusty Rhodes and Tornado Murdock.

The championship clash will headline a four-match wrestling program scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

Tommy's brother, Terry, will tackle rugged Bob Brown in the semifinal. Both that event and the main go will be over the best of three-falls route.

In what is expected to be lively girls action, Kay Nobel will oppose Betty Nicolli. Opening the program will be a scrap between Murdock and Tommy Martin.

The championship tag event arose from a novel pairing last week in which Murdock attempted to nail both Richard Moody and Etchison within an hour's limit. He succeeded

Stevens Captures Rush Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Half-back Howard Stevens of Randolph-Macon has captured the national College Division rushing and scoring championships, climaxing one of the finest freshman seasons on record.

Stevens, a 5-foot-7, 165-pound blockbuster, gained 404 yards and scored five touchdowns in his last two games, finishing the season with 1,468 rushing yards and 142 points, according to final figures released today by National Collegiate Sports Services.

Freshmen had won individual titles only four times before Stevens' feat.

Another freshman, Warner Robertson of Maryland State won the punting championship with a 44.2-yards average per kick. He got off punts of 84 and 74 yards in his final game to nail the college division crown.

Sophomore Jim Lindsey of Abilene Christian led the nation in passing, completing 204 of 396 attempts in 10 games for 2,717 yards and 18 touchdowns. The 5-foot-11 175-pound quarterback finished No. 2 in total offense to Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw, a junior.

Bradshaw picked up 1,089 rushing-passing yards in his last three starts for a total of 2,987. Lindsey wound up with 2,740.

Drake's Dick Hewins was the only senior to make the list of individual champions, taking pass-receiving honors with a record 95 catches, good for 1,316 yards and 13 touchdowns. The old mark of 92 receptions was set by Manley Sarnowsky, also of Drake, in 1966.

Bruce Cerone of Emporia State, runnerup to Hewins with 91 grabs, set an all-time record of 1,479 receiving yards and scored 15 touchdowns, to equal the career record of 36 touchdown catches set by Willie Richardson of Jackson State from 1959 to 1962.

Don Fullmer Tries To Fend Off Cold

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — World middleweight contender Don Fullmer of Salt Lake City was trying today to fend off an unexpected opponent—the common cold.

The Utah boxer hoped to shake the cold by cutting down on his training and spending more time in bed to be in form Saturday when he meets champion Nino Benvenuti in a 15-round title bout.

Fullmer planned to suspend his preflight warmups altogether Wednesday and simply relax until he squares off against the Italian who took the crown from Emile Griffith in New York last spring.

"I'm in the best condition possible," said Fullmer. "Benvenuti doesn't scare me. I'm sure I can beat him." But this time he did not tack on his prediction of winning by a knockout.

Fullmer's sparring partner, Piero Bernuzzi, had other thoughts about the outcome. "Fullmer is undoubtedly very strong," said Bernuzzi, "but not all that quick. I think that Nino can beat him easily."

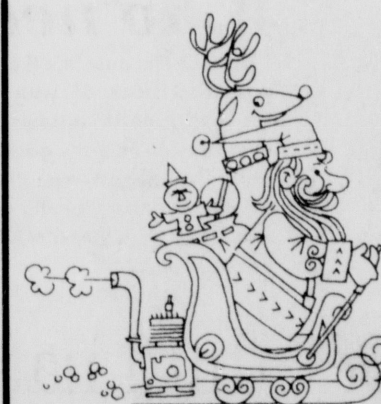

Oakland's Bert Campaneris stole 62 bases last season, his personal high, to lead the American League for the fourth straight season.

She Has a Simple Way To Renovate Worn Ruler

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—To refinish an engraved or indented type ruler so you can again read the numbers and see the lines, just paint the entire ruler and then quickly wipe off the paint. The excess paint will stay in the inside parts. Use a contrasting color and you will have a like-new ruler and no more guesswork. This method can be used on flower pots or any other household objects that are nonabsorbent. —MARION

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Does anyone have the directions for weaving with a spool that has six nails on top? One was given to my granddaughter and we cannot figure out how to use it. There is a hole through the spool. We would appreciate any ideas on how to use this.—MRS. M. R.

DEAR POLLY—I found it hard to get my two young children to brush their teeth and was discussing this with a friend who had the same trouble. She found the following solution: She made a chart, marking off two spaces for each day for one month. Every time a child brushes, he puts a star in the space. Those having the most stars at the end of the month win a small prize. Tooth brushing is no longer a dreaded chore at our house but a fun game. —DARLENE

DEAR POLLY—The vacuum bottle that I have always carried to work no longer keeps drinks cold but does hold liquids without leaking. Now I fill it with my favorite cold drink and put it in the freezer the night before. In the morning, I slip the vacuum bottle into a plastic bread bag and leave it in my car until noon. By that time it has thawed to a refreshing icy consistency and the bag keeps it from sweating on to the car seat cover.—MR. A. Y. B.

Missourians Win Four Out Of Five Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Missouri college won four out of five basketball games over out-of-state teams Monday night. Lincoln University knocked off Fort Hays State at Hays 85-77. Northeast Missouri beat Midwestern of Iowa 78-64 at Kirksville. Missouri-St. Louis swamped Southern Illinois of Edwardsville 107-57 at St. Louis, and Rockhurst defeated Regis 78-76 at Denver.

Pittsburg State was the exception, winning at Missouri Southern 78-64. In an intrastate game, Southwest Baptist defeated Evangel 90-77 at Springfield.

Lincoln, known as a run-and-shoot outfit, switched to a control style for the last 13 minutes after Hays cut a 10-point half-time deficit to four points at 62-58. Lincoln profited on free throw and lay-ups. Otis Ray made 21 points and James Brown 20 for Lincoln. For Fort Hays, Bill Greving got 17 and Gene Rider 16. Both teams are 3-1.

Paul Ozug led the Northeast Bulldogs with 22 points as the Missourians' greater height offset charged to a 67-53 with 4:30 to go.

The Missouri-St. Louis Rivermen, shooting 58 per cent from the floor, were led by Jack Stenner with 36 points.

KU Sells All Tickets Allotted

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) —

The University of Kansas has sold all of the 12,500 tickets it was allotted for the Orange Bowl football game with Penn State New Year's night.

The deadline for receipt of orders was Dec. 6, and Monte Johnson, athletic department business manager, said "We went over our allotment Dec. 4."

Johnson said he hoped to have the tickets in the mail by Dec. 15.

Penn State also has used all of its 12,500 allotment, assuring the Orange Bowl of a sellout.

Drake Bulldogs Take Marquette

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Drake Bulldogs scored six straight points in the final minute for a 68-63 triumph over Marquette's basketball team Monday night at Des Moines, making their record 3-0.

Willy Wise and Dolph Pulliam each made two free throws and Willie McCarter a field goal in the winning flurry. McCarter finished with 21 points, Wise 17 and Pulliam 16.

Minnesota Sharpshooter Boosts Average

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —

Minnesota's Connie Hawkins became the first player in American Basketball Association history to top 50 points twice when he hit 53 at Denver last Thursday.

Just the week before, on Nov. 27, Hawkins tossed in 57 against New York to set a league scoring record.

ABA statistics released Monday show the Minnesota sharpshooter has boosted his scoring average from 31.5 to 34.2 in the last 10 days to pull within striking distance of pace-setting Rick Barry of Oakland, who leads the ABA with a 34.7 average.

The first head-on clash between Barry and Hawkins comes Friday night when Oakland and Minnesota meet in the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

Both the Oaks and the Pipers won three out of four games last week as Oakland ran its record to 19-3 in the Western Division and Minnesota upped its mark to 15-5 in the Eastern Division. Oakland is seven games ahead of second-place Denver and the Pipers have a five-game lead over Kentucky.

Indiana's Mel Daniels continues to set the pace in rebounds, while Miami's Don Freeman is the top playmaker with 135 assists and a 6.8 average.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS DHUD Project No. WS-26-0054 City of Sedalia, Missouri

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of Public Works of the City of Sedalia, Missouri, at the office of The Sedalia Water Department, 111 West Fourth Street, until 5:00 p.m. Central Standard Time, December 16, 1968, for the construction of water treatment plant additions and a new water transmission main. All proposals that have been duly received will be filed with the Mayor or Clerk of such City in open Council Meeting on December 16, 1968, at 8:00 p.m. and then opened and read aloud.

Work to be performed under Contract No. 1 will be constructed under two separate sections. Bidders may bid on either one of the sections or on a combination of both. Water treatment plant additions (Section I) consists of the construction of a new chemical building, new primary basins, rehabilitation of an existing basin, and other appurtenant work at the site of the existing water treatment plant at the site of the existing water treatment plant. The new water transmission main (Section II) consists of the construction of a new distribution water main for the transmission of potable water from the existing water treatment plant to connections to the existing water distribution system. The work to be performed includes the furnishing and installation of approximately 6,700 linear feet of 30 inch, 2,700 linear feet of 24 inch, and 4,400 linear feet of 20 inch pipe, together with the necessary fittings, valves, and other appurtenant work. Alternative bids are requested based on the use of steel pipe, cast iron pipe, ductile iron pipe, or prestressed concrete cylinder pipe. Only one type of pipe will be permitted for each size of pipeline.

Copies of the plans, specifications, and other proposed contract documents are on file at the office of The Sedalia Water Department, 111 West Fourth Street, Sedalia, Missouri, and in the office of Black & Veatch, Consulting Engineers, 1500 Meadow Lake Parkway, mailing address P.O. Box 8405, Kansas City, Missouri 64114. Plans and specifications for use in preparing bids may be obtained from the Consulting Engineers at the address stipulated above upon deposit of $65.00 for each set covering Section I work, 735.00 for each set covering Section II work, or $75.00 for each set covering a combination of Section I and Section II work. The full amount of the deposit for one set only of plans and specifications will be refunded to each bidder who has made a deposit and has filed a bid with the Owner as directed in this notice, upon return by him in good condition of all documents not filed with his bid. One-half the amount of each other deposit, including deposits made to secure documents for subcontractors or suppliers estimating purposes, will be refunded upon the return in good condition of all documents covered thereby within thirty (30) days after the bids are opened.

Each bidder shall file with his Proposal a cashier's check or a certified check drawn on an acceptable bank, or an acceptable bidder's bond, in an amount not less than five (5) per cent of the total amount of the bid. Each bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be required to furnish a performance bond acceptable to the City of Sedalia, each in the amount of one hundred (100) per cent of the contract, in conformity with the requirements of the contract documents. Wage rates paid on construction work for this project shall be at least equal to the prevailing wage rates as determined by the United States Department of Labor and by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. The Contractor and his subcontractors will be obligated not to discriminate in employment practices. The nondiscrimination stipulations and wage rate determinations are included in the contract documents. No bid may be withdrawn within a period of sixty (60) days after the date fixed for opening bids.

The City of Sedalia, Missouri reserves the right to award the contract by sections, to reject any or all bids, and to waive any informalities or irregularities therein.

Karate Chop?

Vice President-Elect Spiro Agnew appears to be hacking down some of the table decorations that obscured the view of he and President Galo Plaza, left, of the Organization of American States, as they greeted well-wishers from the dais of the National League of Cities Congress in New Orleans on Monday.

(UPI)

Agnew Asserts the Poor Shouldn't Have Final Word

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew says elected officials, not the poor, should have the final word on policies and priorities in the nation's poverty programs.

"Let us not see an absence of compassion in an insistence on competence," the Maryland governor told more than 3,000 officials of the nation's cities Monday. "Let us encourage participation of the poor where they can make an effective contribution."

"But let us not confuse the disclosure of symptoms as a substitute for the wisdom of trained professionals. There is ample opportunity and need for each."

Agnew, a luncheon speaker at the annual Congress of Cities, said both state and local governments at times "have been short circuited by an increasing, disturbing trend of federal aid grants to non governmental entities."

Afterwards, at a news conference, Agnew said he was referring primarily to so-called community action programs—a major vehicle during the Johnson administration for participation by the poor in the poverty war.

"I'm not relating to non-governmental entities that are well established, well trained and that have peculiar expertise for doing what is necessary, such as hospital units and that sort of thing," Agnew said. "I'm talking about the community action programs that too frequently involve grants of money to newly formed groups of individuals who espouse a lofty purpose without equivalent knowledge of how to accomplish it. I'm not criticizing their motives. I am criticizing the effectiveness of this spending."

Agnew, designated by Nixon as his liaison with state and local governments, said programs that are working well "should not be disrupted to prove a point. But I say the final determination must be left to elected officials."

Agnew, who described himself as "more realist than romanticist," said the new administration's immediate problem would be "to scale down the gigantic federal establishment."

"The process of 'letting go' is never easy but the federal government must relinquish some of its power if we are to re-establish the sensitive balance of our federal system," he said.

He told the news conference that Nixon had not seen his speech in advance. Asked if the speech could be a blueprint of Nixon administration urban policy, he said, "If he likes it when he reads it, yes."

Bogus Lawyer May Get Shot at the Big Time

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Walter Mitty of Washington courtrooms may be headed for his most glorious day—a chance to argue the law with the nine justices of the Supreme Court.

And there is nothing Daniel Jackson Oliver Wendell Holmes Morgan likes to do more than argue the law.

For years, in Chicago and then in the nation's capital, Morgan argued criminal cases in courts. Four of his clients were in the deepest of trouble: They were under death sentences.

And then, in 1961, it was discovered that lawyer Morgan was an impostor. Off he went to federal prison on a 3-to-10 year sentence for forgery, perjury, fraud and false pretenses.

Morgan was such a good prisoner at Leavenworth that he was released last May. But he didn't lose his taste for litigation.

While in the Kansas prison he sued the warden, John T. Willingham, and the chief medical officer, C. A. Jarvis, for $3,265,000.

Morgan claimed they caused him to be inoculated with a "deleterious foreign substance, serum of drug" and battered, clubbed and choked him.

Since Leavenworth is a federal prison, the case normally would be handled by a federal court.

But Morgan's skill still sharp, he convinced the U.S. Circuit Court in Denver he had a right to try to bring the case into state court, presumably where he thought he'd have a better chance.

This sent U.S. Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold appealing to the Supreme Court, saying the law had been turned "topsy-turvy."

Though Morgan, in a highly professional reply, opined the Justice Department was "exaggerating," the Court on Monday decided to hear the case.

Thus, early next year, Griswold or a young Justice Department lawyer, smartly turned out in morning coat, will stand before the bench and put the government's case to the court.

Morgan, of course, is entitled to have a lawyer represent him.

Though laymen are permitted to argue their own cases in the court, no one recalls this happening more than a handful of times.

Record High Enrollment

CINCINNATI (AP) — Enrollment of students in American colleges and universities has reached an all-time high again this year, and is expected to continue through 1979.

Dr. Garland G. Parker, nationally recognized authority on college statistics, reported today that returns from 1,145 accredited four-year colleges and universities show a total of 4,092,234 full-time students. Last year 1,132 reporting schools had a total enrollment of 3,854,645 full-time students.

In considering part-time students the enrollment was 5,521,963 or 5.7 per cent more than last year's 5,201,889.

Dr. Garland is vice provost for admissions and records at the University of Cincinnati.

This was the 49th annual survey made through his office for the educational journal School and Society.

The University of Missouri ranked 14th in the nation in terms of full-time enrollment with 34,092 students and also 14th in grand total enrollment with 43,926. The State University of New York led in full-time enrollment with 159,153 and the California state colleges in grand total enrollment with 266,396.

Lyric Opera Group Coming To School

The Kansas City Lyric Opera Group will perform for students at Sacred Heart Grade School at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the school auditorium.

These programs, sponsored by the Kansas City Chapter of Young Audiences, Inc., are designed to bring to youngsters the best in music in a first-hand way, stimulating interest in the finer types of music.

The woodwinds, brass, strings and opera group are being featured at Sacred Heart this year.

Makes a Point

A Hereford heifer wearing a sign declaring that if grapes are boycotted today, beef could be next, stood outside the Kansas City Auditorium Monday where the American Farm Bureau Federation is convening. The heifer was put on display after members of the United Farm Workers picketed the convention, urging a boycott of grapes. (UPI)

Compares Farm Policy Views To a Stalemated Grid Game

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — One of President-elect Nixon's top farm advisers says the struggle between those who want more government in agriculture and those who want less resembles a football game in which the time is running out.

Economist Don Paarlberg of Purdue University, said in remarks prepared for the American Farm Bureau Federation convention today that "the ball is in midfield" and neither side is gaining ground.

"One team runs a series of plays and is forced to punt," the former Eisenhower administration farm official said. "The other team then fails to gain, and also is forced to kick. There has been no score now for a long time, and the fans, who are paying for this show, are getting a little weary."

Paarlberg, who has played a key role in Nixon's farm policy development, said so much energy has been used in the ancient battle that other major farm problems have been overshadowed.

Among these, he said, are questions of rural poverty, the migration of large numbers of people out of rural areas, and the question of who is to have the decision-making role in agriculture: the family farm operator, the corporate farm, or the agribusiness firm engaged in all levels of production and marketing.

"We are at a new juncture in this football game between those who would extend the role of government in agriculture and those who would terminate that role," Paarlberg said.

"The ball has just changed hands again. What kind of signal will now be called?"

Paarlberg said that if existing farm programs were scrapped "this would be disastrous for farmers and politicians alike." And farmers have rejected in the past any further tightening of production controls.

Instead, he suggested, as the National Commission on Food and Fiber recommended last year, that the nation move gradually to a market-oriented agri-

Scranton Mid-East Trip Raises Hopes of Arabs

By DENNIS NEEDL
Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT (AP) — William W. Scranton's tour of the Middle East has raised Arab hopes that the Nixon administration may be more sympathetic to the Arabs than the Johnson administration was.

When the former governor of Pennsylvania arrived in the Arab world last week on a fact-finding tour for President-elect Nixon, he said he foresaw "no immediate basic change" in U.S. policy toward the Middle East. But when he crossed the Allenby Bridge into Israel Monday, he said American policy should be "more even-handed."

"The United States must take into consideration the feelings of all persons and countries in the Middle East and not necessarily one country over another," Scranton told newsmen in Jerusalem.

Authoritative sources said Nixon's envoy considered his mission "a completely new start, not bound by President Johnson's five-point Middle East peace formula." They added Scranton was emphasizing his complete independence from current White House and State Department policies.

Leaders of the Arab nations have guarded hopes that Nixon will put pressure on Israel to accept a settlement based on the U.N. resolution of Nov. 22, 1967. The resolution called for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory in return for an end to Arab belligerency and free navigation for Israeli shipping through the Suez Canal and the Strait of Tiran.

Prospects for a peaceful settlement of the protracted crisis in the Middle East now seem to hinge on Israel's readiness to make concessions, but the Israelis have given no indication that they are prepared to do so. Short of what they call "abject surrender, Egypt and Jordan say they can give little more. They have accepted the U.N. resolution. Egypt also is reported willing to accept a return of a U.N. peace force to the Sinai Desert and the shore of the Tiran Strait.

Syria remains intransigent, rejecting any political solution and calling for a war of liberation. It continues to condemn the United States, and a statement by the ruling Baath party Monday warned against "illusions" that American policy would change.

Both Egypt and Jordan have rejected a reported American peace plan providing for each Arab nation to settle with Israel separately. Jordanian Premier Bahjat Talhouni, in a weekend statement, called for unified Arab action to liberate territory occupied by Israel since efforts to reach a peaceful settlement had failed.

He said Jordan and Egypt have gone as far as they can to make U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarling's peace mission a success, but neither nation was prepared to offer any new proposals.
